Covington Farmers Market Rules

MISSION STATEMENT: To promote the sale of local products, to provide an educational forum for consumers and vendors, and to enhance the quality of life in the area by providing a community activity that fosters social gathering and networking. The Covington Farmers market provides a place for local vendors to directly sell their good and where community members can interact in a safe and friendly environment. We do this because we support local farmers and crafters, promote economic growth in the area, and desire to preserve the quality of life in our community.

CORE VALUES: The values of the Covington Farmers Market are:

1. We support local farmers and crafters by providing them opportunities to sell their product directly to community members.
2. We support education of small businesses by providing workshops and seminars for all phases of operating a business.
3. We support the health of our community members by providing educational workshops and demonstrations on the benefits and uses of locally grown foods.
4. We support the community by providing a central location for community members to gather on a regular basis for networking and relationship building.
5. We support the economic development in the area by promoting other businesses in partnership with the Covington Farmers Market.

MANAGEMENT: The governing body of the Covington Farmers Market is the Covington Farmers Market Steering committee. The CFM Steering Committee is a sub-committee of Olde Town Covington and is ultimately responsible for the operation of the market and oversees the market manager. The CFM Steering Committee is a voluntary group of citizens who support the Covington Farmers Market and the local community by providing educational programming to vendors and our community, applying for grant funding, and planning special events that further enhance the Covington Farmers Market and our area.

Steering Committee Members: Christine Hodges (Virginia Cooperative Extension), Olde Town Covington, Patsy McKinney (Market Manager), and Jacob Wright.

Season Dates and Times: The first day of the 2020 market season will be Saturday, June 13th and will continue until September (depending on product and produce availability). Saturday hours are 9:00 am-Noon Vendors are not able to sell before 9:00 am or after Noon, this will be strictly enforced

Market Eligibility: Vending is limited to producers living in the counties of Alleghany, Greenbrier, Monroe, Craig, Bath, Botetourt, and Rockbridge. Vendors outside of these counties must seek consideration by the Steering Committee.

Fees: The $25.00 seasonal fee for a 10 x 10 space is due after the application process is completed and before the producer begins selling at the market. Guest vendors will pay $5.00 per visit up to five visits (depending on desired space). At the completion of five guest vendor visits, the vendor will be considered a seasonal vendor. Send application and payment to: Virginia Cooperative Extension 450 West Main Street, Covington, VA 24426 Make checks payable to: Covington Farmers Market

Market Attendance: Consistent attendance at the market is expected. Vendors are encouraged to plan for and commit to the entire selling season. The market manager reserves the right to fill empty spaces 20 minutes before the start of the market.

Space Assignments: Vendor spaces will be determined by the market manager/steering committee. Vendor space assignments will be made based on the best interest of the market. Consistency of attendances will also be taken into consideration. Regular vendors from the previous year will be able to reserve their space if the vendor space is paid for by June 13, 2020.

Product Guidelines:

- The Covington Farmers Market is primarily a producer only market. A producer grows, raises, and/or makes what they sell. A producer includes the immediate family of the vendor and the vendor's employees.
- Items not produced by the vendor may be sold for resale if the items were purchased from local farms, cooperatives, wholesale, pick your own establishment, food hubs, etc. Each vendor must present the market manager with a receipt of this purchase before completing any sales transactions. Receipts must have the name of the farm/facility, a contact name and a telephone number. Resale products must be labeled for the public with a card designating the farm/facility of origin and location.
- Products may not be represented as certified organic unless the producer/farmer can provide certification papers. Terms such as "minimal spray", "no spray" or "free-range" may be used as long as they are an accurate reflection of the producers farming practices.
- All food items are subject to Virginia Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (VDACS) and/or Health Department regulations. It is the responsibility of the vendor to be knowledgeable of, and abide by, all regulations pertinent to their individual product and operation.

- VDACS requires product labels to list: product name; ingredients list (in descending order); net weight; and address of manufacturer, packer or distributor on any baked goods or prepared food items.
- Vendors without kitchen inspections must include this exact statement on EACH item: “Not for resale. Processed and prepared without state inspection.” This statement must be readable to all customers.

To set up an inspection contact VDACS Regional Office at 540-562-3641

Vendors must have all applicable inspection certificates available at the market.

All vendors must display prices for all products as well as their farm name and location.

Vendors will provide their own tables and chairs.

Cooking At The Market: Cooking is permitted at the market with prior approval from the market manager/steering committee. Any safety concerns will be assessed and addressed by the market manager. Please check with the Alleghany /Covington Health Department regarding food safety regulations. Applicable inspection certificates must be available at the market.

Scales: Scales used at the market are subject to inspection by the Bureau of Weights and Measures. <http://www.vdacs.virginia.gov/standards/index.shtml> and must be legal for commercial use. Contact Virginia Weights and Measures Association at 804-786-2476 for more information.

Crafts and Non-Food Items: The following non-food items may be sold at the Covington Farmers Market:

- Locally grown cut flowers and potted perennials, annuals and herbs
- Handmade items made by the vendor from homegrown or locally collected materials such as herb or grapevine wreaths and dried flower arrangements
- Nonprofit organizations interested in selling at the market, will be judged on a case-by-case basis
- Produce vendors who also manufacture crafts may sell their crafts at the market
- Items handmade BY THE VENDOR or vendor’s immediate family such as jewelry, clothing, cards, art and complementary craft items to the Market.

Insurance: Sellers are personally responsible for any liability arising from the display or sale of their products at the Covington Farmers Market. To protect yourself and your customers please have suitable insurance coverage.

Disputes/Complaints: Any disputes between vendors and/or complaints are to be presented to the market manager. The market manager will strive to resolve all conflicts. If a satisfactory resolution of the problem cannot be achieved then the dispute will go before the Covington Farmers Market Steering Committee. The steering committee will review the issue and resolve it. The decision of the steering committee is final and will be based upon the rules.

Sanitation and Safety: Vendors are responsible for cleaning up their own space before leaving the market for the day. Any unsafe or unsanitary conditions should be brought to the immediate attention of the market manager. Any vendor who leaves litter in his/her space will be charged a $20 fine per offense. This includes vegetable scraps from produce.

THERE WILL BE NO SMOKING, chewing tobacco, snuff products, alcohol or illegal substances at the Covington Farmers Market either on the market floor or in the parking lot.

Behavior by vendors or customers judged to be disruptive or detrimental to the peaceful operation of the Market will not be allowed.

Children brought to the Market by vendors must be kept under the supervision of a designated adult.

Vendor Conduct: The success of the Covington Farmers Market is dependent on the positive experiences we provide our customers. We expect our vendors to behave in a positive, professional manner while at the Covington Farmers Market.

1. Direct, respectful and honest communication with each other, the market manager, and the CFM steering committee
2. Integrity of products, advertising, and pricing
3. Respect of personal and cultural differences
4. A spirit of teamwork and cooperation

General: Vendors who violate any Covington Farmers Market regulations will first be given a verbal warning by the Market Manager on behalf of the Covington Farmers Market Steering Committee. Second violation will constitute a written warning from the Steering Committee. The third time a violation occurs, the vendor will be asked to leave the market.
