

ROSA ELIZABETH FROM EL SALVADOR

Rosa and her husband have lived in their own home for 15 years where Rosa has raised cattle and has sold milk to the surrounding towns. With the earnings from these sales she pays for household costs. She is requesting a loan of $850 USD for the purchase of more cattle to continue breeding, and in turn, increase her income.

This month, Cascade Investment Advisors decided to focus its charitable lending efforts to a budding entrepreneur in a rural area of El Salvador...

Subsistence farmers located in high-risk regions of El Salvador, including coastal strips, riverbanks, and volcano fault lines often have difficulty finding formal funding. Our hope by helping to fund this loan for Rosa Elizabeth is to extend risk-tolerant credit to even more farmers, regardless of where they live.
