

Sign Up for Your Clubroot Soil Test

Clubroot testing can detect low levels of the clubroot pathogen in your fields. Early detection and proactive clubroot management strategies help keep spore levels low and minimize yield losses.

You can pick up a soil testing bag by visiting your Ministry of Agriculture regional office, or sign up to receive your test by:

- Following the QR code at right;
- Calling SaskCanola at 306-975-0262;
- Contacting your local Saskatchewan Association of Rural Municipalities Plant Health Officer or RM office; or
- Calling the Agriculture Knowledge Centre at 1-866-457-2377.

Soil testing is easy. Once you have the bag, collect soil from your field and submit it for testing. SaskCanola will cover the $100 cost of this test.
