TRANSLATIONS

Dona Nobis Pacem: Grant Us Peace.

Cantate Canon: Sing to the Lord

Three Italian Songs of the Sea

I. La Barchetta

Now the vessel that flies o'er the billow
Is approaching and brings home my lover
O what joy! Soon all pain will be over.
Soon again my true love I shall see?
Swiftly bring him back once more, la la ra la la,
I await him on the shore, la la ra la la.
Swiftly bring him back once more,
I await him on the shore.

II. L'Addio del Volontario

Farewell, my love, I leave thee.
Our fleet must now depart;
Should I not go, believe me
'Would show a coward heart.
This flow'r my well-beloved,
Will bear the colors three;
Embrace it, for 'twill spring from
A soil that will be free!

III. Santa Lucia

Brightly the silver star
Shines o'er the ocean,
Fair winds woo billows
Calmly in motion;
My bark shall fleetly glide
Over the sea, ah!
Santa Lucia! Santa Lucia!

Do Not Stand At My Grave and Weep

Do not stand at my grave and weep.
I am not there; I do not sleep.
I am the thousand winds that blow.
I am the diamond glints on snow.
I am the harvest's golden grain.
I am the gentle autumn rain.
When you awake in morning's hush,
I am the swift rush of quiet birds in circle flight.
I am the soft star that shines at night.
Do not stand at my grave and weep.
I am not there, I do not sleep.
Do not stand at my grave and cry;
I am not there, I am not there.
I did not die!
Do not stand at my grave and cry;
I am not there. I did not die.

Cantamos!

My life fulfilled with a song.
I want to sing with the voice of a thousand generations.
I want to sing with the strength of a million mighty nations.
I want to sing with the soul of a powerful stream,
The whisper of a dream you gave to me.
We sing, let a voice resound.
We sing, with a mighty sound.
We sing, swelling from the ground.
We sing, we sing, we sing, we sing.
We sing, like a rising storm.
We sing, let a song be born
We sing, till the break of morn,
We sing, we sing, we sing, we sing.

I want to sing for the dreamers who reach for something higher.

I want to sing for the artists who light our souls with fire.

I want to sing for the heroes who fight for our lives,
For the truth with no disguise, lift up your eyes,
SING!
