

Digitize and Transform Your Business with Active Mailroom

For over 25 years, Miria has been a recognized expert in automation of transactions and workflow. In partnership with IBM, our cloud-based ActiveOps platform digitally transforms businesses and drastically improves workflow processes for companies of varying sizes and industries.

Active Mailroom, a core application and service within ActiveOps, provides document capture with sophisticated document classification and optical character recognition capabilities. It is an advanced digital mailroom which captures high volumes of paper and digital documents from multiple sources including e-mail, FTP, multi-functional printers, scanners, web folders, and mobile devices.

Active Mailroom in Action

Active Mailroom is a fully supported web service which integrates disparate business processes and systems from an easy to access cloud platform. Capture, OCR, Classify, and Route from the point of origin without the need for manual data input.

Multi-source Capture

High-speed Interpreting

Process and Secure Data

Automated to Next Step

The Most Advanced Technology with Enhanced Artificial Intelligence

Most document capture, OCR, and classification processes require a great deal of manual interaction, often more than 50% of the time, to manage exceptions and to eventually train the system. Active Mailroom's Enhanced Artificial Intelligence uses a combination of machine learning, structured rule definitions, artificial intelligence, robotic process automation, and exception management to significantly reduce the amount of human interaction required.

Should Active Mailroom come across an exception, the Miria service team will take care of it for you. Active Mailroom will also learn the change for future instances--eliminating an immense amount of exceptions, human interaction, and manual errors.

KEY BENEFITS

- The foundation for automating business processes
- Sophisticated document classification and OCR
- Multi-source input solution
- Fully supported web service integrating business processes with multiple systems
- Easy-to-access cloud platform
- Built with Enhanced Artificial Intelligence
- Human exception management capability
- Reduced errors and manual labor

To learn more about how ActiveOps and Active Mailroom can automate your business processes, please call us at 484-446-3300 or email us at info@miriasystems.com.