

UNITED AIRLINES MAINTENANCE CONTROLLERS NEGOTIATIONS UPDATE – 01/24/2020

Members,

Your IBT Negotiations Committee and UAL have concluded the first of two scheduled negotiations sessions this month. With the non-economic issues cleared, the sole focus of these negotiations is the exchange of economic passes.

The Company started the session by passing their latest attempt at a comprehensive economic package. Although the Company made some improvements with regard to pay parity, there is clearly more work to be done.

With considerable differences between the two parties remaining, the parties were searching for alternative solutions to bring the groups closer together. Executive session talks with the Mediator took place on Wednesday that paved the way for the Union's response to the Company's latest proposal.

Through a creative approach, the Union was able to draft an economic package that considerably lowers the total price of the contract. The Union officially pitched this idea to the Company at the table on Thursday morning. Another executive session took place Thursday afternoon with the Mediator to discuss the Company's thoughts on the Union's pass and what the next move will be for them.

Both parties have been satisfied with the assistance of the Mediator and are hopeful for continued progress.

In Solidarity,

Your Negotiations Committee

Paul McCormick, Dan Morrissey, Bob Fisher, Kyle Schoembs, Paul Alves and Hernan Gomez

UNITED AIRLINES MAINTENANCE CONTROLLERS NEGOTIATIONS UPDATE – 01/24/2020