WELCOME TO THE 404 KITCHEN WHISKEY SOCIETY!

As a member, you will be assigned a locker which will house the bottles you purchase through our program. New barrel select releases will be made available roughly every 90 days, at which point members will be able to purchase a given number of bottles based on allocation. It is expected that each whiskey will have a different allocation amount.

THE 404 WHISKEY SOCIETY SELECTS:

Featuring this month:

Jack Daniels Single Barrel, 404 Pick - 1 liter

- ($110)
- Lynchburg, Tennessee
- 131.4 proof
- Bottled 2/24/2020
- Allocation per member: 2

While not labeled bourbon, most Tennessee whiskeys meet the criteria required to be called bourbon. After distillation, Jack Daniel's Tennessee Whiskey undergoes what is referred to as the Lincoln County Process. In the case of Jack Daniel's, it drips for six days in 10-foot vats, passing through sugar maple charcoal before being put in new charred oak barrels and aged for an estimated 4-7 years.

Jack Daniel's pulls barrels from the upper levels of the rickhouse for their single barrel bottlings, with the barrel proof version being released in varying proofs ranging from 125 to 140. This is the only whiskey Jack Daniel's offers to the public in a single barrel, barrel strength form.
