What I valued most about my LYV experience: safety and non-judgment; my vision/purpose statement; getting in touch with my inner self and expressing it; discovering my integrity, my gifts, other ways of being that are helping me be a better person.

David B., VP of Sales

My leadership performance and career potential is rising, thanks to your accurate assessment of my performance gaps and your skillful partnership in helping me prioritize, develop, and implement new habits and behaviors...And, I can see this is just the beginning!

Brian D., CFO

Fran's greatest strength is in assisting her clients with discovering their vision and values. She delights in helping clients "become who they are," and relocate their locus of control from the outer world to their own inner authority. I am in awe of her ability to zero in on the essential.
