Why do we only Rest in Peace? Why can't we Live in Peace too?

That observation was shared by a customer recently and I thought it was so profound that I had to share it. If each of us is kind, considerate and forgiving as we go through each remaining day of our lives, we can change the world. ~ gayle

New Pixie's from Mirabilia are now in stock

Too, too cute! This little dog has his tongue poked out and the wording is "Just can't hold my licker!" Having pet sat for Janet this past weekend, I can so relate. Faith, Janet's lovable rescue pup, spent last night licking my leg until I thought that I was going to scream. She proved she couldn't hold her "licker"!

Ever feel like you're going batty? Well, these bats are the perfect reminder that bats aren't all scary. The kits are expected to arrive in the shop shortly.

Each kit has two designs and perforated paper for the wings, colored wool ball, and everything else you need to put them together (well probably not the glue!) You can hang them around the house to help keep you centered!

Renaissance Mermaid is the newest design from Mirabilia. It was just released yesterday. We'll be placing our order early next week so let us know if you would like us to hold a chart for you.

2017 Schooler Santa

I know it makes no sense that Prairie Schooler retired - and yet there is a new Santa for 2017.

The chart is currently in stock in the shop.

I finished stitching the Easter Tree but got a little carried away when it came to filling the basket at the base of the tree. I added grass, Easter eggs, peeps, and flowers. Oh, I almost forgot, first I re-designed the basket to look more Easter-like. Check it out on your next visit to the shop.

Here's a chart you can stitch in time for Independence Day. Remember that "liberty" allows you to disagree with another's views, but not to attack them for holding those views. If each person had tolerance for others, we would all live in peace.
