Provider Accessibility Initiative (PAI) and Barrier Removal Fund (BRF)
General Overview/Frequently Asked Questions

WHAT is the PAI?
The goal of the PAI is to increase the number of Health Net* providers that meet minimum federal and state disability access standards by:
1. Improving the accuracy, completeness and transparency of provider self-reported disability access data in all products and all markets nationwide by integrating “minimum accessibility” standards into the provider application, credentialing and directory processes; and
2. Giving participating providers in three pilot states competitive access to grant dollars through a Barrier Removal Fund (BRF). Providers that apply and are chosen for BRF awards receive an onsite disability accessibility review completed by a local Center for Independent Living (CIL) and funding to remediate priority disability access barriers.

WHO is responsible for administering the BRF?
• Health Net is proud to partner with the National Council on Independent Living (NCIL) on the administration of the BRF. NCIL is the longest-running national cross-disability, grassroots organization run by and for people with disabilities.
• NCIL provides technical assistance to Western Sky and helps coordinate a local BRF committee that selects BRF awardees. NCIL also coordinates with local Centers for Independent Living (CILs) to conduct the onsite accessibility reviews of BRF applicants, provide training and distribute grant funds to BRF awardees to remediate priority disability access barriers identified by the local BRF Committee.

WHY are the PAI and BRF important?
• It’s the right thing to do. Studies show that Medicaid and Medicare beneficiaries with disabilities receive less preventive care due to inaccessible exam rooms and/or diagnostic equipment.i
• Federal laws and regulations require that managed care organization (MCO) providers have disability access and that MCO provider directories include a complete and accurate description of provider disability access.ii iiThe 2016 Medicaid/CHIP Managed Care Final Rule states that: 1. MCO providers must provide physical access, accommodations, and accessible equipment for consumers with physical or mental disabilities by July 1, 2018 (42 CFR Section 438.206(c)(3)); 2. Provider directories must indicate the following for all physicians, hospitals, pharmacies, behavioral health providers, and LTSS providers: linguistic capabilities, completion of cultural competence training, and whether the provider’s offices, exam rooms, and equipment accommodate individuals with physical disabilities by July 1, 2017 (42 CFR Section 438.10(1)); and 3. State network adequacy standards must consider the ability of MCO network providers to ensure physical access, reasonable accommodations, culturally competent communications, and accessible equipment for Medicaid enrollees with physical or mental disabilities by July 1, 2018 (42 CFR Section 438.68(c)(1)).

Question: How will I know if I am chosen to be awarded funds?

- Answer: You will receive an email from Tim Fuchs at NCIL at tim@NCIL.org. You will also be informed if your application was not selected for funding.

Question: If I have a question about the BRF application, who should I contact?

- Answer: Contact Tim Fuchs at NCIL at tim@NCIL.org or call (202) 207-0334 or toll free at 1-844-778-7961.

Question: How much will this award fund per submission?

- Answer: Award amounts will vary based on the specific number of BRF grants awarded and the amount of each grant will depend on the total number of applications received, the impact applications will have on Health Net disability access network adequacy, and the number of Health Net members with disabilities impacted. There is no funding cap; however, most grants to date have been in the range of $500–20,000.

Question: Are there costs for which my organization is responsible?

- Answer: Health Net will cover the cost of the accessibility site review, technical assistance and approved modification(s). Any additional costs are the responsibility of the awardee.

Question: Can I include multiple pieces of equipment or modifications?

- Answer: Yes, include all items for which you are seeking funding.

Question: I have multiple sites, do I need to submit a BRF application for each site?

- Answer: Yes, please submit separate applications for each site where you serve members.

Question: How soon can I expect award funding to arrive?

- Answer: This is a reimbursement grant, so grantees will complete purchases and improvements and invoice NCIL for actual costs incurred, up to the approved amount. If grantees cannot afford to pay for the work ahead of time, we will consider requests to pay vendors or contractors directly.
• Question: Will you grant dollars outside of my state, given that you have a national presence?

  o Answer: BRF dollars granted by the Health Net BRF Committee are for the participating providers in California only.

• Question: What happens if I choose to term with Health Net?

  o Answer: You must remain in the network (and in good standing) for one year following grant funding or full repayment [or return of equipment] will be required. If you leave the network after 18 months, you will repay 50%. After two years, fully-funded, no repayment will be due.

• Question: What if the accessibility improvements cannot be completed by the timeline listed in the application due to reasons I cannot control (i.e., the part is on backorder or the contractor is not able to start the work within the timeline)?

  o Answer: Contact Tim Fuchs at NCIL at tim@ncil.org to further discuss your concerns.

• Question: What happens if the accessibility improvement costs change after the contractor begins work?

  o Answer: The initial decisions are final. The provider is responsible for any additional costs.

• Question: If I have questions, who can I contact?

  o Answer: Contact Tim Fuchs at NCIL at tim@ncil.org or call (202) 207-0334 or toll free at 1-844-778-7961.
