Who is Eligible?

Small businesses that have suffered substantial economic injury, that were in existence on January 31, 2020 and that fall into any of these categories:

- Businesses, cooperatives, ESOPs and tribal small businesses with not more than 500 employees
- Sole proprietors (with or without employees)
- Independent contractors
- Most private nonprofits and small agriculture cooperatives

Businesses can also qualify if they otherwise meet the existing regulatory and statutory SBA size standards. See https://www.sba.gov/federal-contracting/contracting-guide/size-standards.

What is the $10,000 grant?

According to the SBA:

- In response to the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, small business owners in all U.S. states, Washington D.C., and territories are eligible to apply for an Economic Injury Disaster Loan advance of up to $10,000.

- This advance will provide economic relief to businesses that are currently experiencing a temporary loss of revenue.

- Funds will be made available following a successful application.

- This loan advance will not have to be repaid.
How do I apply for the loan and the $10,000 grant?

The EIDL application is online, as is the grant request: https://covid19relief.sba.gov/#/

The grant funds can be used to:
- Provide paid sick leave to employees;
- Maintain payroll;
- Meet increased costs to obtain materials;
- Make rent or mortgage payments; or
- Repay obligations that cannot be met due to revenue losses.
Paycheck Protection Program

Who is Eligible?

Small businesses that were in operation on February 15, 2020 with fewer than 500 employees, in addition to:

- Sole proprietors, independent contractors and eligible self-employed individuals
- 501(c)(3) nonprofit organizations
- 501(c)(19) veterans organizations
- Tribal small business concerns

Affiliation rules have been relaxed in certain situations (e.g. hospitality and food service), but otherwise apply.

Businesses can also qualify if they meet the existing regulatory and statutory SBA size standards. See https://www.sba.gov/federal-contracting/contracting-guide/size-standards.

PPP loans are available through financial institutions, such as banks and credit unions, not the SBA.

However, not all banks are currently participating in this program. Reach out to banks and lending institutions with which you have an existing relationship and let them know you want to apply through this program. Ask for a list of documents they are requiring.

If you anticipate applying, fill out the application and pull together needed financial information as soon as possible while funds are still available.

How do I get my loan forgiven?

According to the SBA Guidance:

• The borrower will not be responsible for any loan payment (or accrued interest) if the borrower uses all the loan proceeds for forgivable purposes and employee and compensation levels are maintained.

• The actual amount of loan forgiveness will depend, in part, on the total amount of:
  • Payroll costs
  • If incurred and/or dated before February 15, 2020:
    • mortgage interest obligations
    • rent payments on leases
    • utility payments under service agreements
  • If incurred over the 8-week period following the loan date

• Forgiveness of non-payroll allowable expenses is limited to 25% of total forgiveness.

• Borrowers must document use of loan proceeds to apply for forgiveness.
