

It's time to relax outside.

Is your outdoor living space ready for summer? Plan ahead to get the most enjoyment from your home this year—from creative cooking and dining spaces, entertaining guests poolside or on the dock, listening to music in the yard or on the deck, and even while you garden.

Outdoor living is here to stay.

Listen to your favorite music and ballgames while you play, work, and entertain guests. Enjoy clear, crisp audio while you move around the yard and sit by the fire at night.

Escape with more than just sound.

Weather-proof TVs provide the ultimate viewing experience. Imagine immersing yourself and your guests in a ballgame or music concert in the fresh air. Changing channels and monitoring the volume is as easy as picking up a smart phone or tablet. And, even though you might prefer to be inside when the weather turns wet and cold, these TVs can be left outdoors and function year-round. Now, that's living!

Keep mosquitos and bugs away.

Motorized insect screens keep pests out, while still affording you and your guests an unobstructed view. No more evenings cut short or moved inside due to unwanted intruders. A simple press of one button quickly and effortlessly lowers and raises the screen. Who said Mother Nature must rule?
