About Author: Angelic Tarasio was born in the Ukraine and spent part of her childhood living in Germany. She graduated with Diploma and master’s degree in English and German languages. With 18 years of teaching in the Ukraine and USA, she discovered a unique method of teaching the students through creative performances and writing the journals in foreign languages.

The life in the United States redirected Angelic Tarasio towards new education and over twenty years of practice in integrative medicine. Being a cancer survivor, Angelic Tarasio gained first-hand experience that enabled her to guide thousands of people towards health through nutrition and fitness. The professionally developed teaching skills became again instrumental in the field of wellness.

The friendship with incredible mother-in-law Countess Maria Kotyk-Kurbatov was a blessing, as the author discovered Spirituality and Compassion that empowered her to handle daughter’s 12 complicated surgeries, survival after car crashes, and numerous major life challenges. Author’s compassion fuels the philanthropic drive in donation of personal time and resources to different charities.

In accordance with the promise that author gave to her mother-in-law, she published the inspirational trilogy based on Countess Maria’s life-story, in order the readers may believe that God’s miracles often happen in lives of regular people.

Book I: “Mother Maria” introduces the reader to a noble family in Eastern Poland at the beginning of the 20-th century. World War II destroyed peaceful life of Maria after graduation from Sorbonne University and her engagement in France. She was pushed in the whirlpool of life-threatening events that brought her to concentration camp in Nazi Germany. Thanks to interference of the Divinity and the least likely ally, Maria was rescued from the fire of war by true love.

Book II: “Home-Coming” brings the reader to post-war annexation of the territories of Eastern Europe by the USSR. In 1946, mother-to-be Maria Kotyk-Kurbatov and her husband Alexander arrived at the Ukraine to rescue Maria’s family. Through illegal actions of NKVD/KGB that happened to the Kurbatovs, the reader discovers the cruelty of the communist regime, hardships of GULAG and exile to Siberia, as well as Divine Providence that continued to manifest itself.

Book III: “Bridge to the Sky” gives the reader the experience of unlawful continual persecution of Maria and her 3 children by KGB. After years of threat, losses of beloved, poverty and homelessness, the reader finds, how Maria’s Faith in Divinity and courage led the woman to miraculous resolution of the unbearable life existence. With the Divine intervention, Maria reached the Kremlin and met Leonid Brezhnev, a new leader of the country, and the miracle happened.
