

Douglas Hoover

Doug Hoover (magic Classes) Attended the University of Southern California's Business school studying advertising, marketing and taking as many theater classes as possible.

At the time he was admitted to the MAGIC CASTLE's youth program where he was tutored by some of the best magicians in the world and read voraciously in their library of old and rare magic books.

His interest in magic for children was ignited when he had tow of his own and started performing and teaching at schools and libraries around Southern California. He has designed and taught special magic tricks to engage children's interest in performing for their own family and friends.

Growing up in Pasadena California, Doug returns there every year to manage the biges show on New Year's Day, Pasadena's Rose parade and Rose Bowl fo-otball game.

He currently resides in Santa Clarita, California.