

Jayme Palmer

Jayme Palmer (Customer Service Representative) is a multi-genre singer and voiceover artist born and raised in Los Angeles, California. Jill Scott and Matt Cermanski of "The Voice" are just a couple of the artists she has had a pleasure of backing up in a live setting. Her voice can be heard on the most recent television shows, "Vanderpump Rules", "The Flash" and "Sleepy Hollow". Jayme is a featured vocalist on albums by artists Ben Labat, Tribal Campagne and released her own EP, "Christmas Wishes" in 2015. Besides live and in-studio backup and solo work, Jayme also travels and performs with many live bands, including Los Angeles' premiere 1940's-style big band, Wartime Radio Revue.