To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Justin Bailey M.D. and I am a primary care physician that practices in a busy three physician group in Charleston, West Virginia. Our group recently hired Jarrett Construction to build a new 8500 square foot office in Northgate Business Park. We had a tight budget and time schedule as our lease was up at our old office. Obviously we were nervous about maintaining our patient flow during the building and moving process.

The design phase was challenging as we needed to keep costs down but yet have an efficient work space with availability for future expansion. This was where the experience of the staff at Jarrett Construction really showed as they always seemed to anticipate our needs and had creative answers to our problems. We were constantly updated on the progression of the building with regular meetings. Jarrett Construction finished our building ahead of schedule and within budget.

In summary, we were very pleased with the quality of work and the final price. The people at Jarrett Construction enjoy and take pride in their work and it shows in the finished product. John Jarrett showed integrity and honesty that made the building process less stressful. We would definitely use them for future projects.

Sincerely,

Justin D. Bailey, MD
