

EXPERTISE

Healthcare

Like our commercial office expertise, every element of your project is managed efficiently, from site analysis, to hiring the building engineer, to understanding your proforma, to complying with protocols, to reviewing tenant work letters and lease terms. Beecher can also help you create corporate standards, so every build you have within your corporation runs through the same process, efficiently and flawlessly.

Healthcare, however, requires ample knowledge of specialized spaces. Beecher is experienced in understanding the requirements for a service-oriented space with specific demands. All while constructing your building with the peace of mind that you will enter a facility that makes you feel at ease, offers a sense of healing, is safe and sterile, and follows all protocols.

Whether a private physician or a national healthcare system, Beecher has worked on a variety of healthcare project types and sizes. Their experience includes surgery centers, sterile manufacturing, wound centers, MRI spaces, veterinary clinics, hospitals, and other healthcare facilities.
