BYNE
CHRISTIAN SCHOOL
EST. 1983

Byne Christian School seeks to train students to know, honor, and worship God in all aspects of life, and to see His handiwork in every subject taught.

Classical Christian Education

Byne's move to a Classical Christian school is a response to a call from the leadership, faculty, and the school community to provide a higher level of academic standard with a Christ centered education. By using the trivium model (grammar, dialectic/logic, and rhetoric stages), the goal is that our students will be even more firmly equipped to analyze and discern right from wrong with a clear Biblical worldview. "Classical methodology capitalizes on the strengths of God's creative work by requiring of a child what he is best equipped to do: memorization—grammar stage; argument—dialectic/logic stage; analysis and expression—rhetoric stage." (ACCS.org) One of the distinctives will be to develop thinkers and "lifelong learners," in the midst of a society that tends to focus on "teaching to test."
