Welcome to the future

Coaches Inc. utilises a state of art training app which allows us to support our golfers remotely. We realise there will be times in a golfers development journey that a face to face lesson is simply not necessary and waiting weeks for the next available lesson slot to come available can be quite an inconvenience. This amazing app allows customers to share and post content in a variety ways enabling us coaches to make informed decisions and pass on solutions, drills, clarifications or what ever is necessary to help our golfer. To learn more about how it works and the associated benefits, contact your preferred Coaches Inc. teaching professional.
