BIOGRAPHY

Since receiving his B.A. in Theatre from Lewis University (just outside his hometown of Chicago) Keith has appeared in major roles in everything from Hamlet to I Hate Hamlet, The Rocky Horror Show to Singin' In The Rain, and Macbeth to Picasso At The Lapin Agile, including one-man shows such as An Evening's Requiem, a haunting tale he edited using works by Edgar Allen Poe and William Shakespeare. As a solo singer, he has performed his cabaret-style "Tuxedo Music" from coast to coast.

When "Mr. Las Vegas" Wayne Newton was 4 years old, The Grand Ol' Opry Road Show passed through Wayne's hometown of Roanoke, Virginia. Pointing up at Kitty Wells and Hank Williams Sr. onstage, "lil Wayne" told his parents "that's what I want to do." Keith had the same serendipitous event when he was just 13; this time it was Wayne onstage who influenced a young and guidance-seeking Keith. Taking the entertainment legend's lead, Keith learned the value of variety, professionalism, the success to showmanship & artistry, and always staying true to himself and his music & creative passions in the same manner as the late greats Bobby Darin, Matt Monro and Robert Goulet, to name only a few.

Whether performing with a pianist, trio, 29-pieces, or pre-recorded tracks (using only the highest quality recordings and NEVER auto-tuned & ALWAYS LIVE) the quality is always of the highest caliber with utmost professionalism; two things that today are unfortunately sometimes seen as throw-backs. Keith is more than happy to fight that stigma.

Stage, screen, and film are only the beginning as this young man keeps The Great American Songbook , entertaining show business, live performance, Cabaret, the Theatre, and a voice through the artistic soul.....alive & swingin'!

TESTIMONIALS

"You have a damn good voice, Keith, and you seem to know how to breathe and use your body properly.

What is also impressive is that you give the songs your own sound and interpretation instead of trying to sound like the artists who made the songs famous.

Keep on singing, young man, and keep reaching for that unreachable star."

~Vera Goulet, wife of the late, great Robert Goulet

"I am pleased to write on behalf of performing artist Keith Survillas who we have had the pleasure of working with throughout 2017.

Mr. Survillas is talented, passionate, and a consummate professional. His performances go beyond the typical dinner house background music ambiance. When Mr. Survillas performs, it is a destination, dinner and a show...the whole package!

Guests call weekly to keep tabs on when he will be playing and they come an hour early to get a good seat. In fact, we rearranged the seating in our dining room because when Mr. Survillas plays everyone in the restaurant wants a good view of the stage.

I would be remiss to discuss Mr. Survillas' performances without mentioning his rapport with the audience. Every guest feels like they know him, as he goes out of his way to engage them during the show. Keith has a rather large following and has brought many new customers to us through his own marketing efforts and the community outreach he does.

As one guest put it: "That young man knows who his crowd is and he goes out and finds them." We couldn't agree more.

It has been our pleasure to work with Keith. If you would like to discuss our recommendation further please feel free to contact us anytime."
