Purpose

We are here to help. We will work with you to help you respond to financial difficulty, whether temporary or long-term. We are committed to helping customers facing financial hardship maintain telecommunications access and working with you to find a sustainable solution. Any help we can give will depend on your individual circumstances, and we provide help on a case-by-case basis.

What is financial hardship?

The Telecommunications Consumer Protection Code (C628:2019) provides a definition of financial hardship as a situation where : (a) a Customer is unable to discharge the financial obligations owed by the Customer under their Customer Contract or otherwise discharge the financial obligations owed by the Customer to a Supplier, due to illness, unemployment, being the victim of domestic or family violence, or other reasonable temporary or ongoing cause; and (b) the Customer believes that they are able to discharge those obligations if the relevant payment arrangements or other arrangements relating to the supply of Telecommunications Products by the Supplier to the Customer are changed.

Our accounts team will endeavor to assess, assist and communicate with those suffering genuine hardship in a friendly and empathetic way. Identifying financial hardship

At Hyperwave we believe financial hardship to be a situation where our Customer wants to pay their bills however a temporary issue prevents them from doing so. We're here to help.

There are many factors that can contribute to this situation including illness, loss of employment, family breakdown or other reasonable causes.

When making an assessment of your situation to determine eligibility for financial hardship assistance, we may require certain information from you, including documents.

These may include :

- Employment information.
- Income details (including Government sourced).
- Debt details.
- Financial position statement.
- An official written statement from a person supporting you and is familiar with your circumstances ; this may include a support group.
- Evidence that you have engaged a recognised financial counselor.

Options

After assessing your circumstances, we may look at a number of options to keep you connected, including :

- Spend controls (limiting purchase of Data Packs, for example)
- Restriction of service (eg, call barring for telephony services)
- Low cost interim options (eg lowering your plan, or creating a custom plan)

Financial arrangements may include :

- Temporarily postponing or deferring payments
- Agreeing to an alternative arrangement, plan, or contract
- Waiving late payment fees
- Incentives for making payments, for example, payment matching

Financial hardship policy

Hyperwave's Financial Hardship policy is accessible via our website at <http://www.hyperwave.com.au>.

If we assess you as meeting our financial hardship criteria, we will endeavour to offer you options to both decrease your current spend and manage your payments owing. This may involve limiting your available call types, or capping calls for VOIP services, or decreasing your data package for Internet services. We may also offer a 3 month suspension of your service.

We will endeavour to assess your application to us in a fair and timely manner. As a guide only we aim to respond to your request within 72 hours.

We aim to assist improving your financial situation while reducing your debt to us.

Normally a financial hardship agreement would not extend beyond 60 days from approval.

If we approve your case and develop an assistance plan for you, we will document this and provide to you via email or post for you to sign and return to us.

You must notify Hyperwave if your financial circumstances change, either for the better or worse.

Hyperwave may choose to amend a previously invoked agreement if your circumstances change.

It is your responsibility to make payments to us according to the agreed schedule.

If you do not honour your responsibilities to make payments on time, you as the Customer risk suspension or termination of your service, and the application of reconnection or early termination fees. In this case, these fees would be applied as per the terms of your original contract.

Refusing to pay for your service on such grounds as

- The amount sought being unexpected
- The customer generally objecting to the amount
- Failure to contact Hyperwave to discuss alternative payment options

does not qualify as financial hardship and would cause normal business credit management or debt collection processes to begin.

The provision of false, incomplete, inaccurate or fraudulent information at any time during this process may result in Hyperwave cancelling any previously agreed financial hardship arrangements.
