

Program

Ottawa Oncoplastic “Hands On” Workshop

Saturday, October 14, 2017

University of Ottawa Skills and Simulation Centre

Workshop Description

These workshops combine didactic lectures, comprehensive videos, case discussions, hands on cadaveric dissections. Each workshop will have a full session on the benefits of neoadjuvant therapy, its appropriate use, patient selection criteria, monitoring response, surgical techniques and outcomes. Course faculty include surgeons from the Ottawa Hospital, Royal Victoria Regional Health Center, Trillium Health Partners and London Health Science Center.

Workshop Objectives

Following the completion of this program participants will be able to:

- Build awareness and use of neoadjuvant therapy and oncoplastic surgery to optimise breast conservation in breast cancer patients across Canada
- Identify use of oncoplastic surgical techniques as an integral part of optimal surgical management for breast cancer
