Dish Women's Network

2017 DISH Women's Network Awards

Trailblazer: This woman embodies the spirit of DISH and the Women's Network as a calculated risk-taker and groundbreaker within her team and our company. She impacts the business through her dedication and she inspires those around her to engage with the industry.

Our Trailblazer this year is dedicated to constantly improving and challenging the status quo. She never settles for "the way it's always been done" and has recently made particularly strong advancements for her team that have had effects on our company, as well. Our Trailblazer winner demonstrated initiative, creativity, and innovation in her role and has redefined processes to improve our company. Her work has led to key breakthroughs, and now our Finance team can be more engaged, flexible, and effective.

Congratulations, Cindy Rogus!

Woman to Watch: This woman shows tremendous promise through her accomplishments as a leader and industry advocate. Through job excellence she inspires and motivates others to achieve more.

This winner has only been with DISH for a couple years, but in that short time she's shown her strengths in change management and pioneered her team to be experts in what they do. She has become a creative leader for projects that touch all departments across the company, yet she still makes time to cultivate a positive team culture with strong relationships while growing her department and company. She is the epitome of leading by example. She will be the first to speak up and to fight for the DISH Brand, but she's not afraid to challenge herself and her team when she thinks they can do better.

Congratulations, Nancy Perales!

Mentor of the Year: This woman wields her knowledge, experience and wisdom to develop talent around her. She takes time to be a catalyst for change in other women and our industry.

Our Mentor of the Year is a woman who wields her knowledge, experience, and wisdom to develop the talent around her. She takes the time to be a catalyst for change in other women and our industry. Our Mentor of the Year for 2017 shines through in consistently leading and motivating not only everyone on her team, but her peers and others within the company as well. She helps lift other women up—whether its advice on navigating a tough conversation or lighting a fire under you when you need that extra push. Her dedication to the growth and advancement of her team and her mentees is a true leading example of mentorship at our company. Congratulations, Sandra Pereira!
