Local HVAC Rep Welcomes Lennox International Rep to the Team

Dave Marini, a 30-year HVAC veteran, joins Nelson & Company's Central Florida Office.

Nelson & Company, a North and Central Florida HVAC manufacturer's representative, welcomed Dave Marini to the team in May.

Amidst the COVID-19 pandemic Nelson & Company continued to expand their team by onboarding veteran Lennox International Rep, Dave Marini, to the team.

Marini has experience working with Nelson & Company and understands their brand better than most. During his time with Lennox International, he served as liaison between Lennox and Nelson & Company to provide excellent support and equipment for their customers and keep them updated on new products and HVAC controls. Prior to his work with Lennox, Marini worked with Johnson Controls.

Marini, a Massachusetts native, had this to say about his transition from Lennox International to the Nelson & Company team, "The first call I made after my COVID-induced layoff was to Nelson and Company." He continued by saying "John, Erika and the whole crew [at Nelson & Company] are such a phenomenal group I knew without hesitation these were the people I wanted to work with. And I know my future customers will be happy to work with me as well."

Nelson & Company is excited to be expanding in these economic conditions and represents manufacturers' products that are designed to decontaminate air and surfaces as a protection against the COVID-19 virus.
