

May 2017 update for Radius Capital Management

PERFORMANCE AT A GLANCE

Portfolio/Index	May Return	YTD Return To 5/31/17
Stock Portion of Radius portfolios (Radius 100)	+0.6%	+4.5%
Stock Portion of Radius Index portfolios (Index 100)	+0.7%	+5.1%
U.S. Stock Benchmark (Vanguard S&P 500 Index Fund)	+1.4%	+8.6%
Balanced Risk 75 Portfolio (target risk/volatility vs. S&P = 75%)	+1.0%	+5.7%
Bond Portion of Radius and Index portfolios	+0.3%	+1.5%
Bond Benchmark (Vanguard Total Bond Index Fund)	+0.7%	+2.3%

The U.S. stock market was broadly higher in May, with aggressive Growth stocks clearly beating the more defensive Value. Given its roughly 50% allocation to Large Cap Value, the stock portion of the Radius portfolios posted a modest gain of 0.6% vs. a gain of 1.4% for the S&P 500. Given how late we are in the economic cycle, it remains to be seen how long growth socks can continue their recent run-up, but for now, they seem to have strong momentum. International stocks continued their strong performance, with the EAFE international index up 3.1% for the month. Growth stocks outperformed Value, and Large Caps beat both Mid and Small Cap stocks. Bonds posted gains across the board, with the benchmark bond index up 0.7% for the month.

LONG-TERM PERFORMANCE THROUGH 5/31/2017

The longer-term performance of the Radius portfolios continues to be strong. Since inception (1/1/2001), the Radius 100 portfolio has generated a net cumulative return of +228% (7.5% annualized) vs. a cumulative return of +148% (5.7% annualized) for the benchmark S&P 500 – with a comparable level of risk (i.e., standard deviation of monthly returns, maximum drawdown, and beta). Over the same time period, the more conservative Radius 60 (60% stock mutual fund, 40% bond mutual fund) portfolio grew +193% (6.8% annualized) vs. a +143% return (5.6% annualized) for its benchmark³.

^a Returns for the Balanced Risk portfolio prior to 3/30/2015 are back-tested (simulated) and not actual returns of Radius accounts.

¹ In general, the higher the market volatility (as measured by the CBOE Volatility Index or VIX), the more the market is driven by investor emotions (greed and fear). Lower market volatility indicates a market environment based on fundamentals (economic growth, corporate earnings, etc.). The long-term average for the VIX is 20, 30 is considered high, 40 very high, and 50+ extreme.

Footnotes:

^a Returns for the Index portfolio prior to 7/30/2014 and Balanced Risk prior to 3/30/2015 are back-tested and not actual returns of accounts managed by Radius. Back-tested (simulated) performance results have certain inherent limitations. Unlike an actual performance record, simulated results do not represent actual trading. Also, since the trades have not actually been executed, the results may have under- or over-compensated for the impact, if any, of certain market factors, such as lack of liquidity. Simulated investment strategies in general are also subject to the fact that they are designed with the benefit of hindsight. No representation is being made that any account will or is likely to achieve profits or losses similar to those shown.

¹ The Balanced Risk 75 portfolio invests part of its assets in leveraged ETFs. These funds seek daily investment results – before fees and expenses – that are triple the return of stock (S&P 500, S&P Mid-Cap 400, Russell 2000), bond (20+ Year Treasury Bond), and commodity (gold, silver, oil) market indices. Using these leveraged ETFs results in greater volatility and a greater risk of loss.

Other Notes:

- Investment returns since the portfolio inception date reflect the (unaudited) performance of actual investment portfolios.
- For the period prior to its inception date, the returns for the Radius 20 are calculated using the actual returns from the Radius 100 and 60.
- All performance numbers include dividends and capital gains and are net of all transaction costs and management fees, but do not reflect the impact of taxes.
- Past performance is no guarantee of future results. There will be periods when the investments lose value and/or underperform their respective benchmark.
