Bond Benchmark (Vanguard Total Bond Index Fund)	1.0%	1.0%

U.S. and international stock markets rebounded sharply in January, with all stock market segments posting gains of at least 7%. The biggest losers of the past few months posted the greatest gains (e.g., Small Growth, down -20% from August to December gained 12.6% in January and is up 18.5% YTD through 2/15). It remains to be seen how long the current market rally will continue, but for the time being, investors appear to be focusing on market fundamentals rather than raw emotions. I continue to believe we are entering the final stages of the current bull market, but most indicators point to the market posting new highs before the start of the next bear market. I am monitoring the situation carefully and have positioned the Radius portfolios to protect against future market volatility while still participating in the current upswing.

MARKET CHARACTERISTICS

Stock market volatility [§]	Average (monthly avg. = 20, month end = 17)
Business Cycle Phase	Late Expansion (eighth out of nine "innings")
Dominant Investment Style (active vs. passive)	Mixed (appears to be moving from Passive to Active)

[§] In general, the higher the market volatility (as measured by the CBOE Volatility Index or VIX), the more the market is driven by investor emotions (greed and fear). Lower market volatility indicates a market environment based on fundamentals (economic growth, corporate earnings, etc.). The long-term average for the VIX is 20, 30 is considered high, 40 very high, and 50+ extreme.

Footnotes:

- Investment return numbers for the Radius 100 and Radius 60 reflect the (unaudited) performance of actual portfolios that have been invested since 1/1/2001. For the period prior to its inception date, the returns for the Radius 20 are calculated using the actual returns from the Radius 100 and 60.
- Returns for the Index portfolio prior to 7/30/2014 and Balanced Risk portfolios prior to 3/30/2015 are back-tested and not actual returns of accounts managed by Radius. Back-tested (simulated) performance results have certain inherent limitations. Unlike an actual performance record, simulated results do not represent actual trading. Also, since the trades have not actually been executed, the results may have under- or over-compensated for the impact, if any, of certain market factors, such as lack of liquidity. Simulated investment strategies in general are also subject to the fact that they are designed with the benefit of hindsight. No representation is being made that any account will or is likely to achieve profits or losses similar to those shown.
- The Balanced Risk Plus portfolio invests part of its assets in leveraged ETFs. These funds seek daily investment results – before fees and expenses – that are triple the return of stock (S&P 500, S&P Mid-Cap 400, Russell 2000), bond (20+ Year Treasury Bond), and commodity (gold, silver, oil) market indices. Using these leveraged ETFs results in greater volatility and a greater risk of loss.
