Section 3 | Terms and Conditions

What We Believe

Scripture: The entire Bible is true. Its authority is final and eternal. It is without error.

The Trinity: There is one God, who exists eternally in three persons: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

Father: God the Father is the creator and sustainer of all things. He created man for fellowship and called man back to Himself through Christ after the rebellion and fall of man.

Son: Jesus Christ existed with God and the Holy Spirit from the beginning. He was born of a virgin, led a sinless life, and performed miracles. He died on a cross, resurrected three days later, and then ascended into heaven where He sits at the right hand of God until His future return to Earth.

Holy Spirit: The Holy Spirit indwells Christian believers to live godly lives. His power and gifts are available to all believers today.

Salvation: In order to become a Christian and achieve eternal salvation, one must repent from his or her sin, believe in the Jesus, and accept Him as Lord and Savior.

Healing: Christ's redeeming work on the cross provides healing for the body through believing prayer.

Judgement: Jesus Christ will return to earth followed by the resurrection of both the saved (to everlasting life) and the lost (to everlasting damnation).

Financial Policies

General Policies: Contributions equal to involvement expense are subject to increase based on extenuating circumstances related to travel, lodging, and/or food. Dates, travel arrangements, and schedules are subject to change. Team or individual participant destinations may be changed in the event of any political crisis, natural disaster, or mission-related reasons.

In the event that a participant cancels his/her participation (including no shows) after expenses have been incurred, s/he may be held liable for these expenses, including training camp costs, airline tickets, and other administrative expenses.

In the event that a participant's involvement with a trip/program should end prior to the completion of the trip/program, regardless of the circumstance, all funds sent will be released from restriction into Ignite Europe's General Fund and will be used in support of the trip/program for which they were intended.

All donations made in excess of a participant's original goal will automatically go into the Ignite Europe's General Fund.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Each participant is responsible for meeting his/her fundraising goal. If a participant falls short of a fundraising goal, and Ignite Europe has incurred expenses on his/her behalf, the participant is responsible to pay the difference. Funds may not be transferred to any other trip, any other person, or any other ministry.

A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act

The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Here is a summary of your major rights under the FCRA. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street N.W., Washington, DC 20006.

You may have additional rights under Maine's FCRA, Me. Rev. Stat. Ann. 10, Sec 1311 et seq.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you. Anyone who uses a credit report or another type of consumer report to deny your application for credit, insurance, or employment – or to take another adverse action against you – must tell you, and must give you the name, address, and phone number of the agency that provided the information.

APPLICATION

Section 3 | Terms and Conditions

- You have the right to know what is in your file. You may request and obtain all the information about you in the files of a consumer reporting agency (your “file disclosure”). You will be required to provide proper identification, which may include your Social Security number. In many cases, the disclosure will be free. You are entitled to a free file disclosure if:
 - a person has taken adverse action against you because of information in your credit report;
 - you are the victim of identify theft and place a fraud alert in your file;
 - your file contains inaccurate information as a result of fraud;
 - you are on public assistance;
 - you are unemployed but expect to apply for employment within 60 days.

In addition, all consumers are entitled to one free disclosure every 12 months upon request from each nationwide credit bureau and from nationwide specialty consumer reporting agencies. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for additional information.

- You have the right to ask for a credit score. Credit scores are numerical summaries of your credit-worthiness based on information from credit bureaus. You may request a credit score from consumer reporting agencies that create scores or distribute scores used in residential real property loans, but you will have to pay for it. In some mortgage transactions, you will receive credit score information for free from the mortgage lender.
- You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. If you identify information in your file that is incomplete or inaccurate, and report it to the consumer reporting agency, the agency must investigate unless your dispute is frivolous. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for an explanation of dispute procedures.
- Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. Inaccurate, incomplete or unverifiable information must be removed or corrected, usually within 30 days. However, a consumer reporting agency may continue to report information it has verified as accurate.
- Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information. In most cases, a consumer reporting agency may not report negative information that is more than seven years old, or bankruptcies that are more than 10 years old.
- Access to your file is limited. A consumer reporting agency may provide information about you only to people with a valid need – usually to consider an application with a creditor, insurer, employer, landlord, or other business. The FCRA specifies those with a valid need for access.
- You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers. A consumer reporting agency may not give out information about you to your employer, or a potential employer, without your written consent given to the employer. Written consent generally is not required in the trucking industry. For more information, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.
- You may limit “prescreened” offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report. Unsolicited “prescreened” offers for credit and insurance must include a toll-free phone number you can call if you choose to remove your name and address from the lists these offers are based on. You may opt-out with the nationwide credit bureaus at 1-888-567-8688.
- You may seek damages from violators. If a consumer reporting agency, or, in some cases, a user of consumer reports or a furnisher of information to a consumer reporting agency violates the FCRA, you may be able to sue in state or federal court.
- Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have additional rights. For more information, visit www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.
