

WOLVES' TALE

FEATURED THIS WEEK: SENIOR SPOTLIGHT, JH BASKETBALL, QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Senior Spotlight: Zella Ingham

By Hailey Cody

Zella Christine Ingham, the daughter of Trisha and Kirk Ingham. She has two brothers: Charlie who is older, and her little brother DJ. Zella grew up with many nicknames but the ones that have stuck are “Z” and “Zell Bell.” Zella has attended Harris-Lake Park school district her whole life.

She is involved in volleyball, basketball, golf, softball, dance, and welding with Wyatt (her favorite). She enjoys hanging out with friends and being active in sports. Her favorite sports are either golf or softball. Her first year of golf was her junior year, but her biggest regret from high school is not going for golf out sooner. This falls into her advice for underclassmen: “Get involved, be nice, and make the most out of everything.”

Zella plans on attending Iowa State after graduation for Actuarial Science or Civil Engineering. She couldn't pick one favorite memory from high school because she loved every single memory she made with all of her friends as an athlete. But her favorite memory as a student was going to all of the bonfires after football games with her classmates. She is going to miss all of the people she has gotten so close with after high school. She is most looking forward to meeting new people and experiencing new things.

Junior High Basketball

By Kadiance Olson

The junior high boys had their first basketball game on the 16th. I interviewed Mason Ahrenstorff and Seth Goodell for 8th grade and all of the 7th-grade boys. Their coaches are Mr. Hiemstra, Mr. Anderson, and Mr. Irwin.

The 8th grade won 21-15. They then came back in the second half when they were down by eight. They said they had good defense in the second half, and the other team only scored six points the second half. The eighth-graders playing this year are Mason Ahrenstorff, Tyler Wallace, Seth Goodell, Caden Vanthaul, Adam Bensley, Wyatt Wittrock, and Chase Hidma.

Unfortunately, our 7th graders lost 41-6. They played a hard game, struggling in the first half and playing better in the second half. They said that the plays they used worked well, especially “ five down.” Something they won't forget in the game is when Tanner threw the ball over his head to pass it. Our seventh graders this year are Tanner Odegaard, Gabe Nicks, Ryder Bobzien, and Austin Hamann.

Both teams will continue to work hard and practice hard. GO WOLVES.

Question of the Week

By: The Newspaper Staff

As many of you know Thanksgiving is coming up very soon, Thursday the 25th. Thanksgiving is a very special holiday in which family and friends get together to eat a meal and tell each other what you are thankful for. We certainly know we have been counting down the days until Thanksgiving break to get out of school, but we are also looking forward to all of the yummy food and seeing my family members. This week we asked students what they are most thankful for this year, and they said three different things: food, family and friends. The students who said family were Tate G, Tyce G, Zella I, Carter R, and Peyton R said her grandparents. The students who said they were thankful for the delicious food were Brea M, Lily I, Maddy I, and Alyssa C. Last but not least, the students who said friends are Abby O, Devin M, Addison H, Wyatt J, Tate G and Zella I.
