COMMUNITY CONVERSATION: The audience is asked to consider the following questions –

1. What do you appreciate most about living in our community?
2. Are you concerned that our community may be headed in the wrong direction? If so, in what ways?
3. What, if any, divides do you feel in our community?
4. What do you think needs to happen for us to heal any divides in our community and to work together effectively?
5. What specific actions can individuals take to help create a more positive tone in our community?

Your final question: What specific action(s) can you take to create constructive communication within your own sphere of influence?
