Microsoft Azure and its Certification

What does a computer do? In simple layman's terms a computer does three basic actions, store, process, and compute. The rate at which the market is growing, it is becoming increasingly difficult to manage these basic three actions. The organizations require faster data analysis, high-level graphics rendering, and high-level storage. There are two choices available at this point, either buying additional hardware, or shift to cloud.

The obvious answer? Cloud computing, putting the business on cloud. On-demand delivery of IT-services online on the go. Zero hustle compared to maintaining physical data centres and servers. An efficiently low cost, more secure and most importantly remote access from anywhere that has an internet connection.

Microsoft Azure- It is an open and flexible cloud platform dedicated to manage Microsoft data centres. It enables users to build, deploy, and manage applications across massive, global network. Seamless hybrid cloud services are Azure pro call. Enterprises can integrate onsite servers with cloud instances with Azure. Open source support working on any language and framework. Hence, businesses can build their application the way they want, from wherever they are.
