"Going One More Round When You Don't Think You Can"

Sylvester Stallone is best known for his recurring role as Rocky Balboa, an underdog boxer who is repeatedly pitted against heavyweight champions and powerhouse fighters. Despite numerous overwhelming challenges, he fights with unyielding determination.

Over the past year, B-cottage staff at Oak Grove Academy have repeatedly squared off against their own Apollo Creed in the form of COVID-19 exposure. Multiple staff selflessly volunteered to transfer from other departments to maintain our positive organizational culture and keep our student-athletes moving forward in their individual programs.

B-cottage has indeed fought multiple bouts, but has consistently responded to threats with professionalism while continuously enhancing our prevention and containment protocols. In the words of Rocky: "Going one more round when you don't think you can, that's what makes all the difference."

Thank you to the Oak Grove Academy staff who have pushed through multiple challenges and quarantine fatigue. We salute everyone who continues fighting hard to maintain student safety and well-being.
