

BRIDES

HONEYMOONS

Stargazing Honeymoon Destinations: Where to See Stars on Your Honeymoon

By Kathryn Romeyn Published on October 5, 2018

Courtesy of Helena Bay Lodge

Helena Bay Lodge, New Zealand

In a cove on the North Island sits this dreamy little lodge on 800 acres of greenery, four private beaches and a vast, open sky. In other words, there's nothing blocking your view. After devouring a meal by their Michelin-starred chef, couples can sip digestifs around an oversized beachside fire pit armed with tools to enjoy your surroundings: warm blankets, binoculars and iPads loaded with a stargazing app that will tell you exactly what you're spotting