AFSCME Stewards please forward to your members!

The below email is being distributed by the Community College HR Directors. This information is sending not only a confusing message to the Local 1067 members, but a negative one as well.

Considering that the Union leadership(s) were not informed of such correspondence, nor were we asked to participate in helping to draft this piece, I feel it is my due diligence to respond in part to the statements below. Please see my comments/responses to the email in red below.

Based on the June 27, 2018, United States Supreme Court decision, Janus v. AFSCME, it is now unlawful for public sector employers or unions to require an employee to pay union dues or an agency fee to a union as a condition of obtaining employment or continued employment. The payment of union dues or agency fees is now voluntary. (According to the Janus decision there are no longer agency fees. You are either a dues paying member of the union, or an employee). Accordingly, state law and/or collective bargaining agreement provisions, including individual appointment letters, that previously made payment of union dues or agency fees a condition of employment are no longer valid. Employees are free to join a union, but a no longer required to join a union or to alternative pay mandatory agency fees as a condition of employment. (Employees have always been free to join the Union, they are just no longer required to pay mandatory agency fees. Employees paid agency fees to defray the cost of representation and benefits for those that did not want to join the Union for their own reasons.)

If any employee has questions about union membership, or is seeking forms relative to union membership (AFSCME has union membership cards should former agency fee payers wish to join in order to receive additional member benefits), you may wish to contact your campus MCCC or AFSCME representative (It is my thought that the information that has been sent out should have either been sent out in partnership with MCCC/AFSCME/MSCA and the individual colleges, as we did with the GIC fiasco this past spring; or at the very least the leadership of the aforementioned unions should have been contacted that this type of correspondence was going to be distributed, or by some measure we should of been asked our thoughts.) or contact the Human Resources Office for appropriate contact information. Employees who were previously paying agency fees need not take any action as those payments are no longer being deducted as a matter of law (the AFSCME Local 1067 CBA has a procedure to be followed if one wishes to opt out of the Union, Article 5, this would also apply to those who no longer wish to participate in the payment of agency fees. That being said, we expect the colleges to follow the collective bargaining agreement and those who no longer wish to be agency fee payers, should be given the option of joining the union. Additionally, for more information regarding the Janus decision, please review the Department of Labor Relations Questions and Answers at http://www.mass.gov/alerts/dlr-qa-re-impacts-of-janus-v-american-federation-of-state-county-and-municipal-employees#875276.

Membership in a union is now voluntary and the decision to become a union member or not is entirely yours. (Membership in a union has always been voluntary and the decision to become a union members has ALWAYS been ENTIRELY their own. Public employees have the right to participate in or join a union or to refrain from doing so. (Public employees have always had the right to participate in or join a union by paying union dues or refrain from doing so via agency fee, again agency fees covered the cost of collective bargaining, mediation, arbitration, etc. This is nothing new and should not even be mentioned here. It is also unlawful for an employee to be discriminated against by either the employer or a union for his or her choice to join or not to join a union. (Again this has always been the case and is nothing new, see Articles 5, 6, 8, and 9 of the AFSCME 1067 CBA). Accordingly, any language in current collective bargaining agreements and/or employment documents/appointment letters that includes as a condition of employment the payment of either union dues or agency fees is no longer valid and is to be disregarded and will not be contained in future appointment documents.

Furthermore, I believe that this rhetoric has been (poorly) composed and sent out to the rank and file to continue to lower moral, to create additional disparity and confusion, and to try to Bust the unions!

Lastly, the Unions are NOT going away, we WILL NOT become employees at will, and we will grow STRONGER. We are AFSCME STRONG! We NEVER QUIT!

I remain, Union and proud of it,

-Sheila

“You’re nothing if you’re not the truth”. ~ Oprah Winfrey
Subject: Joint Letter from MCCC & AFSCME Presidents

TO: Community College Presidents*
FROM: Sheila Kearns, President, AFSCME Local 1067 & Margaret Wong, President, MCCC
DATE: July 27, 2018
CC: Chapter Presidents and Local Stewards for distribution to all MCCC and AFSCME Unit members.

On Friday, July 20, the human resource office distributed at Northern Essex Community College and Springfield Technical Community College what appeared to be an announcement to inform employees about the Janus v. AFSCME Supreme Court decision. On closer reading, however, this seemingly innocuous missive was in fact a thinly disguised anti-union attack, sent out to the rank and file to further lower morale, to create additional disparity and confusion, and to try to undermine the unions. Emphasizing by repetition the misleading statement that now, because of Janus, union membership was voluntary, the letter forcefully insinuated the untrue notion that union membership had previously been compulsory. The letter’s intent, clearly, was to persuade union members to reconsider union membership, and to make a “new” choice now that union membership was voluntary. This was UNION BUSTING, plain and simple.

By Monday, this letter was distributed to four more colleges. A few union leaders were given a heads up, but an attempt by one Chapter President to invite the HR representative to have a dialogue was rebuffed with this statement: “The text was provided by College Counsel so that all community college employees would receive exactly the same message. I do not plan to change the text.” Eventually, a few HR representatives were willing to allow some of the most egregious sentences in the College Counsel’s letter to be removed before it was sent out, but serious damage to the trust that had existed between Labor and Management had already been done.

How can the community college unions, AFSCME and the MCCC, be expected to trust Management going forward? How can college unit employees regain their belief in you, the colleges’ CEOs, who permitted this assault on our collective bargaining authority?

More to the point, what exactly were you hoping to gain by permitting this attack on our unions? It is true that we are on opposite sides at the bargaining table; however, in the end, we aim for the same goal of providing quality education to our students while improving our programs and the college community. The bargaining strength of a union merely allows us to obtain an honest wage and decent working conditions so that we can better serve our students and do justice to the work we do. Although we fight vigorously for what is fair, none of our union members are getting rich, and all of us routinely volunteer to do far more than our paid work requires. We do this because we care about our students, and we take pride in the work we do.

It is difficult to comprehend the point of such an attack on us. Surely, a situation of roiling labor unrest is not desired when we,
Labor and Management, need to be pulling together to deal with the enrollment challenges and ever-increasing demands that community colleges do more with less. We should be working with, not against, each other. Going forward, we hope you will do the right thing. We urge you to convey to the College Counsel and to the college community your support for the colleges’ unions and your respect for your unit employees.

Sincerely,

Sheila A. Kearns, M.Ed.

Cape college receiving $25M for new science building

By Cynthia McCormick
Updated Jul 12, 2018 at 6:19 AM

WEST BARNSTABLE — Cape Cod Community College officials plan to replace the college’s science and engineering building with a new facility within the next 3½ years with the aid of $25 million in state bond funds.

“It will benefit the students and community of Cape Cod tremendously for generations,” college President John Cox said Wednesday.

Gov. Charlie Baker held a bill-signing ceremony at Westfield State University Tuesday to officially announce that the state has approved $3.9 billion to address the state’s capital repair needs, including those at public colleges and universities.

The $25 million going to Cape Cod Community College is included in $950 million dedicated to Massachusetts higher education, Cox said.

The community college in West Barnstable must raise additional funds — up to $13 million — to complete the project, Cox said.

Community college officials have been trying to get funds for a new science facility for years, said trustee John Flores, who is also a Barnstable town councilor.

The structure “is old. That’s the bottom line,” Flores said.

Baker’s signing of the bill approved by the Legislature “is obviously a step in the right direction,” Flores said.

A report by the state Division of Capital Asset Management and Maintenance said it would be more cost effective to replace the current science and engineering building with a new structure than to renovate it, Cox said.

Construction is due to start in about a year and will last 20 to 24 months, Cox said. The existing building housing biology, chemistry and physics labs as well as faculty offices will be torn down, he said.

The current facility opened in the 1970s, Cox said.

The challenge for architects and planners is to “design a facility that has to last probably 50 years,” Cox said.

The designers plan to use a concept called modularity that will allow the new building to accommodate technological changes without invasive structural alterations, Cox said.

“We won’t have to be knocking down walls,” Cox said.

Funding approval for a new facility seemed close at hand the last year of Gov. Deval Patrick’s administration, but the incoming Baker administration put the emphasis on addressing problems with the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority, Cox said.

While the funds for the new science and engineering center at college are welcome, a funding gap remains in addressing the capital needs of state colleges and universities, Flores said.

“It’s an ongoing problem,” said Flores, who is running for the Cape and Islands state Senate seat currently held by Julian Cyr of Truro.

The plan is for the new science and engineering building to be constructed next to the existing science building and lecture halls in a phased construction process designed to minimize disruption to classes and laboratories, college officials said.

Officials anticipate the new science building will help attract more students, Flores said.

The project is expected to take three to 3½ years to complete, Cox said.

Weingarten Rights!

Weingarten Rights. Know them, Use them! (SAVE THIS INFORMATION)

If you are unsure if they apply, ask for them anyway. Better to be safe than sorry.

Know your rights! Please read below!

Employee Rights in “Weingarten” Meetings – Know Them, Use Them!

Beware that management is not obligated to inform employees of their Weingarten rights – employees must ask for them. Unlike Miranda rights – where police are required to tell a suspect of his/her right to an attorney, etc. – employees must ask for their Weingarten rights.

Weingarten – State the following:

“If the discussion in this meeting could in any way lead to my being disciplined or terminated or impact on my personal working conditions, I request that my steward, local officer or union representative be present. Without union representation, I choose not to answer any further questions at this time. This is my right under a Supreme Court decision called Weingarten”.

Weingarten rights apply during investigatory interviews when a supervisor questions an employee to obtain information that could be used as grounds for discipline for either you or a colleague. When an employee believes such a meeting may lead to discipline, he/she has the right to request union representation. These basic Weingarten rights stem from a Supreme Court’s decision.

- The employee must request representation before or during the meeting.
- After an employee makes the request, the supervisor has these choices:
  - grant the request and wait for the union representative’s arrival;
  - deny the request and end the meeting immediately; or
  - give the employee the choice of either ending the meeting or continuing without representation.

(Never, ever, ever, continue without representation! EVER!)

If the supervisor denies the request and continues to ask questions, the employee has a right to refuse to answer! In addition, the supervisor is committing an unfair labor practice.

As always, call your Chief Steward if you have questions or if you are unsure!

Please note: Do NOT think that you are bothering your steward if you have a question or a problem with your supervisor and/or management. That is what we are here for.

Janus v. AFSCME

The United States Supreme Court has ruled in a case that could affect your union-negotiated job security, pay and benefits. The case is Janus v. AFSCME Council 31, and you need to know the facts:

- Anti-worker billionaires brought the case. The same 1-percenters who have been rigging the system against working people poured millions more into buying a ruling that could hurt you, your co-workers and working families.

- They want to bust unions. They know that unions like ours must represent every worker equally, even if some choose not to join as members. They convinced the Court to say that workers who receive all the benefits of a union contract and union representation no longer have to chip in to cover their fair share of the costs in an attempt to hurt the strength of our union.

- They want to sap our power. They know the power of a union comes from our strength in numbers. Corporate bigwigs have the power of money, but we have the power of people. That’s why they plan to spend tens of millions to convince people like you to quit your union.

- They want to divide us. The more people who stick together in our union, the more power we have to negotiate good pay, benefits and job security. If people quit, that power goes away.

You can defend yourself! You can do one simple thing, right now, to prevent their attacks from hurting the job security and union-negotiated benefits you deserve and count on.

Let us know you’ll never quit your union by signing the pledge today.

Public service workers never quit on our communities, and we never quit on each other.

No court case can change that.

Don’t be a Janus!
