Triple C

Sustained joy begins with Triple C: Clarity, Consciousness and Connection. (For a more interactive experience we recommend Triple Action C) We all have those days. The alarm goes off, we know we have to get up- yet we hit snooze. Multiple times. We function on coffee or energy drinks. We tap into our phone before we've even rolled out of bed. And why? Why have we become so reactionary to the litany of requests coming in from others when our own self is starved and begging for needed attention? Triple C introduces us into our demand for more. More out of life. More time with family. More productivity. More passion, vibrancy and stamina. We all want more out of life, Triple C is the introduction and Triple Action C gives us the proven processes and interactions to accomplish it.

Triple Action C

Picking up where Triple C leaves off, Triple Action C dives deeper into proven processes and techniques for having more vitality and energy in life. These in-depth interactive building blocks stack Courage, Contribution and Curiosity onto Clarity, Consciousness and Connection, teaching how to advance in each value with a call to action in being bold, contributing and living in congruence with our core.
