A policy is what people are supposed to do. A practice is what people actually do. The habits and behaviors of people.

Policy and Practice