

I'm taking a week off. Due to a cranky web host with four website and email outages in 3 weeks, I'm transferring from BlueHost to GoDaddy. I need to give the transfer another week to stabilize. Should be seamless thanks to my web/social media coach, Kayla Nelson, guiding me through this fraught process. Plus, I can use the break from the weekly routine - 129 episodes in 132 weeks (2 ½ years)!! Love and prayers to Casey Quinlan and Bob Doherty for best health and peace. Grateful to my sponsor, Abridge, and you all for your ongoing support. Returning next week in full glory. Happy Father's Day. I bought myself a new, blue raffia (African palm) crocheted Helen Kaminsky cap at Salmagundi's in Jamaica Plain to celebrate life! Onward.
