

APRIL IS

VOLUNTEER APPRECIATION MONTH

This month we are celebrating all of the volunteers who contribute to our fight against child sex trafficking. From our dedicated and generous board of directors to individuals who offer their time and talents to further our cause, we couldn't do this work without you!

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT

Nancy Wallace

Nancy Wallace, owner of Nancy Wallace Pilates, first heard of child sex trafficking and StolenYouth from our Executive Director, Marnie Backer. Since then, she hasn't looked away.

"The more I learn the more I want to be prepared and help friends, parents, sisters, brothers, grandparents, people without children, and young adults (everyone) arm themselves with knowledge. Together we can protect our children!"

Nancy is continuously finding ways to support StolenYouth through her business and personal networks, raising money and awareness as often as possible. Nancy, you have gone above and beyond. We can't thank you enough.

David Olson

David Olson is a dedicated volunteer and serves on the StolenYouth Finance Committee. David is also an advocate for trafficking prevention after his family experienced a close call with an online predator. David continues to share his story in hopes to prevent other families from having a similar experience.

Thank you, David, for your advocacy, generosity, and heart.

GET INVOLVED

Interested in joining our fight against child sex trafficking? There are many ways that you can get involved.

Know the Facts

Educate yourself on the facts of child sex trafficking so you can educate your community.

Get Social

Follow StolenYouth on social media and share our posts to raise awareness.

Donation Drive

A donation drive is an easy way to make a big difference in the lives of youth in our community.

Visit our website for a full list of opportunities.

