

skynia.tilda.ws | facebook | twitter | donate | skynia.ua@gmail.com

This week meditations on liturgical texts from Skynia Magazine*

June 6 - 12
The Julian calendar

Content

Stages of meditation	2
June 6	3
June 7	6
June 8	10
June 9	13
June 10	16
June 11	19
June 12	21
What is Skynia Magazine?	25

We kindly ask not to share this file without Skynia Magazine permission

Stages of meditation

Please find below some schematic prompts for each stage of the meditation on the Word of God. Read more.

1. Reading

- Read the text
- What does it tell by itself?
- Clear up the context
- Look up the comments
- Find the key-phrase

2. Meditation

- What is my here and now?
- What does the Word tell me?
- Use your imagination
- "Digest" the text
- The Word and my life

3. Prayer

- What will I say in response?
- Recognition and request
- Gratitude and glorifying
- Prayer in the Word
- My participation in the Divine Liturgy

4. Contemplation

- A call to conversion
- Now I am silent
- Staying in the presence of God
- Now He is guiding me

Biblical readings and meditations

June 6

Sunday 2

Romans 2: 10-16

Matthew 4: 18-23

- Reading
- Meditation
- Prayer
- Contemplation

Romans 2: 10-16

Brethren, but glory and honor and peace for everyone who does good, the Jew first and also the Greek. For God shows no partiality.

All who have sinned apart from the law will also perish apart from the law, and all who have sinned under the law will be judged by the law. For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous in God's sight, but the doers of the law who will be justified. When Gentiles, who do not possess the law, do instinctively what the law requires, these, though not having the law, are a law to themselves. They show that what the law requires is written on their hearts, to which their own conscience also bears witness; and their conflicting thoughts will accuse or perhaps excuse them on the day when, according to my gospel, God, through Jesus Christ, will judge the secret thoughts of all.

Matthew 4: 18-23

As he walked by the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea—for they were fishermen. And he said to them, “Follow me, and I will make you fish for people.” Immediately they left their nets and followed him. As he went from there, he saw two other brothers, James son of Zebedee and his brother John, in the boat with their father Zebedee, mending their nets, and he called them. Immediately they left the boat and their father, and followed him.

Jesus went throughout Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and proclaiming the good news of the kingdom and curing every disease and every sickness among the people.

Meditation

In this Gospel reading Jesus calls two pairs of brothers in order to show what conversion is. Follow me, convert! – He said, that is, change your way of thinking! To enter the kingdom the disciples of Jesus must change their mind and heart. The system always encourages individualism, but Jesus here does not call each of the brothers separately, but twice by two. This aspect of interpersonal relationship is very important to Matthew’s community. Communion between different people is a clear and powerful sign of the presence of the kingdom of God. When Jesus calls the disciples in Galilee, He knows that He is addressing people who have been strongly influenced by pagan and foreign cultures. Even their Jewish names had Greek equivalents. Simon is the name of one of the patriarchs, the son of Jacob, which means He who listens.

This name responds to the prayer of Shema Israel, has the same root. And Peter is his Greek nickname. Andrew is also a Greek name. This means that from the beginning in His community Jesus sought a dialogue of cultures. Like them, we are called by Jesus to follow Him. Who, then, is a disciple? The disciple is the one who finds himself with a lack of confidence, and who abandons everything, but in fact on his way to Jesus gains absolute security and confidence in friendship with Him. Those who follow Him move from everything is under control to an unpredictable life, relying entirely on Him. They move from their limited possibilities to the space of unlimited possibilities. The calling to follow Jesus is, therefore, the reliance on Christ alone, that is the vocation of grace. Christ calls, and the disciple goes. To follow Jesus means to rely on Him.

In the case when Christ is only an idea, we establish a relationship of knowledge, enthusiasm, perhaps even fulfillment, but we never reach a personal commitment to obedience. Duties without the living Jesus will remain only duties without obedience. A Christian without the commitment of obedience will always be a Christian without Christ. It will be just an idea, a myth, and that's it. Thus, Jesus calls the first apostles and immediately starts His journey throughout Galilee. Am I ready to follow Him throughout Galilee?

June 7

Monday

Romans 7: 1-13

Matthew 9:36 - 10:8

- Reading
- Meditation
- Prayer
- Contemplation

Romans 7: 1-13

Do you not know, brothers and sisters—for I am speaking to those who know the law—that the law is binding on a person only during that person’s lifetime? Thus a married woman is bound by the law to her husband as long as he lives; but if her husband dies, she is discharged from the law concerning the husband. Accordingly, she will be called an adulteress if she lives with another man while her husband is alive. But if her husband dies, she is free from that law, and if she marries another man, she is not an adulteress.

In the same way, my friends, you have died to the law through the body of Christ, so that you may belong to another, to him who has been raised from the dead in order that we may bear fruit for God. While we were living in the flesh, our sinful passions, aroused by the law, were at work in our members to bear fruit for death. But now we are discharged from the law, dead to that which held us captive, so that we are slaves not under the old written code but in the new life of the Spirit.

What then should we say? That the law is sin? By no means! Yet, if it had not been for the law, I would not have known sin. I would not have known what it is to covet if the law had not said, "You shall not covet." But sin, seizing an opportunity in the commandment, produced in me all kinds of covetousness. Apart from the law sin lies dead. I was once alive apart from the law, but when the commandment came, sin revived and I died, and the very commandment that promised life proved to be death to me. For sin, seizing an opportunity in the commandment, deceived me and through it killed me. So the law is holy, and the commandment is holy and just and good.

Did what is good, then, bring death to me? By no means! It was sin, working death in me through what is good, in order that sin might be shown to be sin, and through the commandment might become sinful beyond measure.

Matthew 9:36 - 10:8

When he saw the crowds, he had compassion for them, because they were harassed and helpless, like sheep without a shepherd. Then he said to his disciples, "The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few; therefore ask the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into his harvest."

Then Jesus summoned his twelve disciples and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to cure every disease and every sickness. These are the names of the twelve apostles: first, Simon, also known as Peter, and his brother Andrew; James son of Zebedee, and his brother John; Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas and Matthew the tax collector; James son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus; Simon the Cananaean, and Judas Iscariot, the one who betrayed him.

These twelve Jesus sent out with the following instructions: "Go nowhere among the Gentiles, and enter no town of the Samaritans, but go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. As you go, proclaim the good news, 'The kingdom of heaven has come near.' Cure the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out demons. You received without payment; give without payment."

Meditation

If to conduct a poll on the topic: Do you want your husband (wife) to love you unconditionally?, - I am sure that the result would be predictable: unanimous yes. At the same time, if you were to ask the same people: Do you love your husband (wife) unconditionally? – then, probably, the result would be no less unanimous: no. So, the concept of unconditional love is like a feeling of happiness that we have, however, we definitely do not have the ability to love. Can we do anything about this inner «schizophrenia»?

The Lord God commanded the man, "You may freely eat of every tree of the garden; but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil you shall not eat, for in the day that you eat of it you shall die (Genesis 2:16-17). Man rejected the commandment of God and accepted the lie sown by the serpent. For God knows that when you eat of it your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God, knowing good and evil (Genesis 3:5). Even ancient rabbi, Torah commentators, claimed that this first commandment was the 10 words that God wrote with His finger on the stone tablets of Moses. And every day we all experience how the tempter skillfully tricks us into not trusting God, Who gave 10 words as a promise, not just as a moral law.

The Triune God created man in His own image. Thus, each of us has the potential to love another person in complete freedom. There is no evil in this freedom, because a person who continuously draws from the Source of Life is free from evil – he knows only good. Even the shortcomings that love faces are not an essential evil, but an unploughed field where love will continue to work. God proved His love for us when we were still sinners, says Paul the apostle (cf. Romans 5:8). Therefore, there is no obstacle for God to love a person with his/her shortcomings and weaknesses. He seeks to take the law of sin out of our flesh and put love into our hearts.

Devout Jews daily repeat His call: Hear, O Israel: The Lord is our God, the Lord alone. You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your might (Deuteronomy 6:4-5). So, what can we do to love another person? Listen to and wait with confidence on the Lord.

June 8

Tuesday

Romans 7:14 - 8:2

Matthew 10: 9-15

- Reading
- Meditation
- Prayer
- Contemplation

Romans 7:14 - 8:2

Brethren, for we know that the law is spiritual; but I am of the flesh, sold into slavery under sin. I do not understand my own actions. For I do not do what I want, but I do the very thing I hate. Now if I do what I do not want, I agree that the law is good. But in fact it is no longer I that do it, but sin that dwells within me. For I know that nothing good dwells within me, that is, in my flesh. I can will what is right, but I cannot do it. For I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I do. Now if I do what I do not want, it is no longer I that do it, but sin that dwells within me.

So I find it to be a law that when I want to do what is good, evil lies close at hand. For I delight in the law of God in my inmost self, but I see in my members another law at war with the law of my mind, making me captive to the law of sin that dwells in my members. Wretched man that I am! Who will rescue me from this body of death? Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord!

So then, with my mind I am a slave to the law of God, but with my flesh I am a slave to the law of sin.

There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus has set you free from the law of sin and of death.

Matthew 10: 9-15

And the Lord said: "Take no gold, or silver, or copper in your belts, no bag for your journey, or two tunics, or sandals, or a staff; for laborers deserve their food. Whatever town or village you enter, find out who in it is worthy, and stay there until you leave. As you enter the house, greet it. If the house is worthy, let your peace come upon it; but if it is not worthy, let your peace return to you. If anyone will not welcome you or listen to your words, shake off the dust from your feet as you leave that house or town. Truly I tell you, it will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah on the day of judgment than for that town."

Meditation

What are people most afraid of? Probably death. At every occasion, they wish each other good health. And this wish is a kind of an opposition to the concept of death. It turns out that in this fear people are not ready to fight or change something. Will most people lead a healthy lifestyle, give up bad habits, fall asleep on time and play sports? When we start talking about this, everyone will have a reason, not even one, why it is impossible to implement. It turns out that death is already present in us in some imperceptible way, because it kills our desire for the best.

Death came into human life through sin. It is the cause of our dichotomy. I would like to do good and be righteous, but on the other hand, I do not have enough strength to stay that way every day. Sometimes it is difficult to even explain to ourselves why in certain cases we choose evil and sin.

Is it possible to call our life normal if we live in fear, in everyday effort to follow clear rules, if we follow an established scenario of life?! Paul the apostle tries to show how difficult a person's struggle for good is if his body is subject to evil. It seems impossible to live in such an endless confrontation. Wretched man that I am! – says the Apostle in despair.

Somewhere deep inside us there is an inexhaustible source, that is, the desire to be good. And it is up to us whether that living water can turn into a full-flowing river. He who believes in Jesus Christ is free forever. We read the following lines of the Epistle: For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus has set you free from the law of sin and of death. It is the Holy Spirit who has the power to eradicate sin from the depths of our hearts.

The word good is synonymous with life. It is impossible for a person to remain good on his own, only faith in Christ and humble prayer for His grace can gradually change us for the better. So let's not lose courage, let's choose good, let's believe in Jesus! We are already free, we can no longer be afraid, because our God is with us!

June 9

Wednesday

Romans 8: 2-13

Matthew 10: 15-22

- Reading
- Meditation
- Prayer
- Contemplation

Romans 8: 2-13

Brethren, for the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus has set you free from the law of sin and of death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do: by sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and to deal with sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, so that the just requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For this reason the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God; it does not submit to God's law—indeed it cannot, and those who are in the flesh cannot please God.

But you are not in the flesh; you are in the Spirit, since the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, though the body is dead because of sin, the Spirit is life because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ from the dead will give life to your mortal bodies also through his Spirit that dwells in you.

So then, brothers and sisters, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh—for if you live according to the flesh, you will die; but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live.

Matthew 10: 15-22

And the Lord said: “Truly I tell you, it will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah on the day of judgment than for that town.

“See, I am sending you out like sheep into the midst of wolves; so be wise as serpents and innocent as doves. Beware of them, for they will hand you over to councils and flog you in their synagogues; and you will be dragged before governors and kings because of me, as a testimony to them and the Gentiles. When they hand you over, do not worry about how you are to speak or what you are to say; for what you are to say will be given to you at that time; for it is not you who speak, but the Spirit of your Father speaking through you. Brother will betray brother to death, and a father his child, and children will rise against parents and have them put to death; and you will be hated by all because of my name. But the one who endures to the end will be saved.”

Meditation

This excerpt from the Gospel is a part of the missionary sermon of Jesus for the Twelve. After He gives them the task to proclaim the Gospel, Jesus assures them that they will face a lot of opposition: I am sending you out like sheep into the midst of wolves. But they should not be concerned about that. The Teacher is staying with them, and His Spirit will support them.

When a disciple is faced with persecutions, he must fully withstand them in order to be saved, there is no alternative. The Gospel has a binding effect round the clock.

Persecutions constitute a part of the salvation story – that is the Way of the Cross which is still there. The world has started to hate Christ and keeps hating His disciples. Jesus does not promise His missionaries either success or prestige, just shows them the prospects of suffering and persecutions. They don't have to be concerned with the aggression they will face, just to be steady-going and trust God and His interference. The disciple is called to go along the path of testimony amidst sufferings, having Jesus Himself as a sample – crucified and resurrected.

Thus, today's Gospel asks us to prove our faith in Jesus Christ with our lives. In the New Testament the word martyrdom (martyria) means just a testimony that the disciples of Jesus are called to give the world. Loyalty to the Gospel brings in a lot of risks. The one who follows Christ knows about them and takes them into account. The Teacher has always been clearly mentioning them: You will be hated by all because of my name. But the one who endures to the end will be saved. The salvation given by Jesus does not free us from sufferings. Vice versa, following Him means facing trials and sufferings. How many disciples have lived through the experience of the cross over centuries because of their love for Christ! It has not always been bloody martyrdom. Many disciples risk their lives for their neighbour's sake and pay their daily effort for the sake of others, drop by drop, never yielding to difficulties. Not because they feel strong and capable, but just to give pleasure to Jesus, as Mother Teresa used to say. That is the song of loyalty. Let us ask today for the mercy of standing in the faith even when the ordeals stick into us as needles under our skin, when we are surrounded by doubts and hurt by the lack of understanding on the part of other people.

June 10

Thursday

Romans 8: 22-27

Matthew 10: 23-31

- Reading
- Meditation
- Prayer
- Contemplation

Romans 8: 22-27

Brethren, we know that the whole creation has been groaning in labor pains until now; and not only the creation, but we ourselves, who have the first fruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly while we wait for adoption, the redemption of our bodies. For in hope we were saved. Now hope that is seen is not hope. For who hopes for what is seen? But if we hope for what we do not see, we wait for it with patience.

Likewise the Spirit helps us in our weakness; for we do not know how to pray as we ought, but that very Spirit intercedes with sighs too deep for words. And God, who searches the heart, knows what is the mind of the Spirit, because the Spirit intercedes for the saints according to the will of God.

Matthew 10: 23-31

And the Lord said: "When they persecute you in one town, flee to the next; for truly I tell you, you will not have gone through all the towns of Israel before the Son of Man comes.

“A disciple is not above the teacher, nor a slave above the master; it is enough for the disciple to be like the teacher, and the slave like the master. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebul, how much more will they malign those of his household!

“So have no fear of them; for nothing is covered up that will not be uncovered, and nothing secret that will not become known. What I say to you in the dark, tell in the light; and what you hear whispered, proclaim from the housetops. Do not fear those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul; rather fear him who can destroy both soul and body in hell. Are not two sparrows sold for a penny? Yet not one of them will fall to the ground apart from your Father. And even the hairs of your head are all counted. So do not be afraid; you are of more value than many sparrows.”

Meditation

Do not fear those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul, – God tells us today. The soul is not some ghost flying beyond the body starting with the moment of death. That is life that, in spite of everything, fearlessly lasts on, since nobody can win over life. That is true, even if the body is tortured and killed, nobody will ever kill the soul and the striving for eternity.

That is because God, our Father, will not let even a small sparrow fall to the ground apart from the Father when he is learning to fly. God is present in all the circumstances of our life. And though he knows from the beginning that our fate will bring a lot of sufferings, He still keeps asking us not to be afraid since fear is God’s enemy.

Moreover, He asks us to live a full life, even if we run the risk of falling. He asks us to jump out of the nest of our fear in order to fly, since even if we fall, He will be staying side by side with us. He asks us never to refuse to fly, to dare do something, to strive for the top – even if we fall, He will be staying side by side with us.

Let us not refuse to fly. Let us not refuse to jump out of our nest. Let us not refuse to live just because we are afraid of falling. Jesus rose three times on His way to Golgotha, under the burden of the cross. To refuse to live for the fear of violence and death means to refuse to believe that God always stays with us. Let us never refuse to fly – even if we are losing life, we dare hope even more to live further on. Since it is much easier to lose our lives while staying closed in some imaginary safety of our nest, than to dare fall and experience that God exists. And God exists, and He is the life. Always.

June 11

Friday

Feast of Christ, Lover of Mankind

- Reading
- Meditation
- Prayer
- Contemplation

Hebrews 2: 11-18

John 3: 13-17

Hebrews 2: 11-18

Brethren, for the one who sanctifies and those who are sanctified all have one Father. For this reason Jesus is not ashamed to call them brothers and Sisters, staying, “I will proclaim your name to my brothers and sisters, in the midst of the congregation I will praise you.” And again, “I will put my trust in him.” And again, “Here am I and the children whom God has given me.”

Since, therefore, the children share flesh and blood, he himself likewise shared the same things, so that through death he might destroy the one who has the power of death, that is, the devil, and free those who all their lives were held in slavery by the fear of death. For it is clear that he did not come to help angels, but the descendants of Abraham. Therefore he had to become like his brothers and sisters in every respect, so that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in the service of God, to make a sacrifice of atonement for the sins of the people. Because he himself was tested by what he suffered, he is able to help those who are being tested.

John 3: 13-17

And the Lord said: “No one has ascended into heaven except the one who descended from heaven, the Son of Man. And just as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so must the Son of Man be lifted up, that whoever believes in him may have eternal life.

“For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him may not perish but may have eternal life.

“Indeed, God did not send the Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him.”

Meditation

Today’s excerpt from the Gospel refers to the dialogue of Jesus with Nicodemus. Nicodemus was one of the teachers in Israel and a Sanhedrim member. Instead of ascribing the wonders Jesus did in the presence of everyone to the power of Beelzebub, he approaches Christ in the night time and hopes to get enlightenment from Him. Further we will see that he takes the standpoint that is just the opposite to the strict condemnation of Pharisees (see John 7:50) and personally takes care of the decent burial of Jesus (see John 19:39). The meeting between them takes place in the nighttime. Nicodemus comes to Jesus from the darkness of the night, to the fullness of light and truth.

We can see a mention about a serpent of bronze, spoken of in Numbers 21. Hebrews in the desert, tired of hunger and thirst, often complained about God and Moses. And they were punished for this with lethal bites of serpents. But, following Yahweh's order, Moses lifted up the serpent of bronze on a pole. Those bit by the serpents could be saved if they looked at that serpent of bronze. Unlike other wonders done by Moses in the desert, this time those who wanted to be saved had to look at the symbol that became a source of life for him. Christian interpretation must take one more step to see the one who was really meant by the lifted-up serpent saving from death in Jesus.

The Son descended from heaven, and now He must be lifted up. According to the Gospel writer John, to be lifted up means to be glorified. But for John this lifting up is also a moment of deep humiliation.

Glorification of Jesus, lifted up like that serpent in that way, thus becomes an opportunity and a source of salvation. However, it is necessary to direct at it one's eyes full of faith. Faith that can find salvation only in Him.

June 12

Saturday

Our Lady of Sorrows

Romans 3:28 - 4:3

Matthew 7:21 - 8:4

- Reading
- Meditation
- Prayer
- Contemplation

Romans 3:28 - 4:3

Brethren, for we hold that a person is justified by faith apart from works prescribed by the law. Or is God the God of Jews only? Is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yes, of Gentiles also, since God is one; and he will justify the circumcised on the ground of faith and the uncircumcised through that same faith. Do we then overthrow the law by this faith? By no means! On the contrary, we uphold the law.

What then are we to say was gained by Abraham, our ancestor according to the flesh? For if Abraham was justified by works, he has something to boast about, but not before God. For what does the scripture say? "Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned to him as righteousness."

Matthew 7:21 - 8:4

And the Lord said: "Not everyone who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only the one who does the will of my Father in heaven. On that day many will say to me, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and cast out demons in your name, and do many deeds of power in your name?’ Then I will declare to them, ‘I never knew you; go away from me, you evildoers.’

“Everyone then who hears these words of mine and acts on them will be like a wise man who built his house on rock. The rain fell, the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house, but it did not fall, because it had been founded on rock. And everyone who hears these words of mine and does not act on them will be like a foolish man who built his house on sand. The rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell—and great was its fall!”

Now when Jesus had finished saying these things, the crowds were astounded at his teaching, for he taught them as one having authority, and not as their scribes.

When Jesus had come down from the mountain, great crowds followed him; and there was a leper who came to him and knelt before him, saying, “Lord, if you choose, you can make me clean.” He stretched out his hand and touched him, saying, “I do choose. Be made clean!” Immediately his leprosy was cleansed. Then Jesus said to him, “See that you say nothing to anyone; but go, show yourself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, as a testimony to them.”

Meditation

Not everyone who says to me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only the one who does the will of my Father in heaven.

Our religiosity is based not on theories or abstract philosophical principles. It primarily stands for our personal meeting with Christ. He tells us to follow His words and deeds, make deep internal conversion our daily practice and thus become His witnesses. Jesus tells about Himself: For I have come down from heaven, not to do my own will, but the will of him who sent me (John 6:38). That is why, via following Christ, performing His will, we can build our house gradually, day by day – on a steady rock. Christ, a living rock, gives us stability, for us to be able to resist even the most frightful tempest. To overcome temptations and unavoidable trials of life. God-rock is the foundation on which we have to build our lives. Is it possible to build a house without the foundation? Certainly, not! We can try to replace it with something, but later that house will crack or even collapse. On the other hand, fanatic observance of the letter of the religious law, both personal, and community or liturgical one, is just a pious illusion that does not correlate with the deeds and duties of daily life. One may notice the difference between those who immerse into activism almost to the point of exhaustion, and the life of an authentic Christian who, along with active performance of his/her duties in the world, does not lose contact with the divine foundation. Let us ask God for the mercy of bringing His Word into life on a daily basis, living with the Gospel in specific situations.

What is Skynia Magazine?

Skynia Magazine is published with the purpose to help its readers meet the Lord with the help of the Bible.

This is why on most pages of the magazine our readers can find daily meditations on the Word of God: biblical readings according to the liturgical calendar of the UGCC. These meditations are the fruit of the personal prayer of their authors: priests, nuns and laity, who strive to live in the rhythm of the life of the UGCC, trying to tackle present-day issues.

Bible verses are cited according to the New Revised Standard Version Catholic Edition.

We offer digital subscriptions:

- in English and Ukrainian
- according to Gregorian, Julian and New Julian calendars

For individual readers

Skynia offers several types of subscription to liturgical readings and meditations:

- E-mail letters (Sundays and feasts)
- E-mail letters (daily)
- Telegram letters (daily)

For parishes and other groups

- You can print or upload to your website a PDF document with the meditations from Skynia Magazine so that parishioners or members of your community could easily download it.
- Or we will send you a QR code and a button/banner for your website with a link to a registration form of a special e-mail letter for your parishioners or community members.

Support our mission!

If you like what we do, you can support our work with your donations. Thank you!

PayPal - paypal.me/skynia

Why is it important? We try to make the subscription price as affordable as possible, but this means that it is not enough to cover all the expenses.

What are our needs? Remuneration for the work of translators and members of the editorial board. Other expenses (payment for services, current expenses, taxes, etc.) are paid from profits.

The report on the use of donations can be seen here.

skynia.tilda.ws | facebook | twitter | donate | skynia.ua@gmail.com