ANNIE OAKLEY SHOOT

Shooters are on a line at a designated distance from the trap house, say 20 yards.

The shooting order is from left to right.

The first 3 or so shooters mount their guns, the first calls for the bird and shoots. If she/he hits, no one else can shoot and she/he is safe.

Shooting In: if the next shooter in line shoots even though the target has been busted, that person shot-in and receives a hickey and moves to the end of the line. No shooting broken pieces.

If the first shooter misses, the second shooter shoots. If she/he hits, that gives the 1st shooter a "hickey", if you get a hickey you must move to the left end of the line, two hickey's and you're knocked out.
