

Provider:

Biography:

Peter Dodzik, Psy.D., ABPdN, ABN
 Northwest Behavioral Health Services
 121 S. Wilke Rd, Suite 200
 Arlington Heights, IL 60005
 (847) 577-0904
peterdodzik@gmail.com

Fort Wayne Neurological Center
 2622 Lake Avenue
 Fort Wayne, IN 46825
 (260) 460-3203
www.fwnc.com

Dr. Dodzik is a pediatric neuropsychologist at the Fort Wayne Neurological Center in Fort Wayne, Indiana and at North Shore Pediatric Therapy in Glenview, Illinois. Dr. Dodzik specializes in pediatric neuropsychological assessment and sleep medicine.

Dr. Dodzik is also an Associate Clinical Professor of Medicine at Indiana University School of Medicine and Adjunct Professor of Clinical Psychology & Behavioral Sciences at the Illinois School of Professional Psychology-Schaumburg. He teaches courses in functional neuroanatomy, pediatric neuropsychology and the assessment of malingering and deception.

He received his Doctorate in Clinical Psychology with specializations in Neuropsychology and Geropsychology from the Florida School of Professional Psychology. Dr. Dodzik completed his fellowship in neuropsychology at Fort Wayne Neurological Center in Fort Wayne, Indiana. He also completed a fellowship in sleep medicine at the Sleep & Behavior Medicine Institute at Rush North Shore Medical Center in Skokie, Illinois.

In addition to his clinical activities, Dr. Dodzik is currently involved in research related to pharmacological treatment of Alzheimer's disease and Vascular Dementia, surgical treatment for Parkinson's disease, and assessment of Developmental Dyslexia and ADHD. Dr. Dodzik has published and presented in the area of neuropsychological assessment and sleep medicine.

Dr. Dodzik is licensed to practice psychology in Illinois and Indiana. He is also a member of the National Register of Health Service Providers in Psychology, the National Academy of Neuropsychology, the International Neuropsychological Society and the American Psychological Association.

