

Three Business Relocations OK'd
DRB Approves Site Plan For New Catholic Church

The Randolph Development Review Board approved four site plan applications at recent hearings, with three of those applications concerning relocation plans by several area businesses and one local church.

In February, the DRB approved a revised site plan will allow Sts. Donatian & Rogatian to proceed with plans to build a new church on Route 66, at Hebard Hill Road.

Fr. John Milanese said this week that a groundbreaking ceremony has been set for April 15.

Planning and fundraising for a new church was put on hold for several years, while the diocese conducted a study of pastoral needs, statewide. Last year, with the support of new Bishop Salvatore Matano, plans for a new church were revived.

Fr. Milanese said the $1.4-million building would house not only a new sanctuary, but also a chapel, a large parish hall, a modern kitchen, and a religious education space.
