

MICHAEL PACK

Michael Pack is President of Manifold Productions, Inc., an independent film and television production company, which he founded in 1977. Through Manifold Productions, Mr. Pack has written, directed, and produced numerous award-winning nationally broadcast documentaries as well as corporate and educational films.

Completed in 2014, RICKOVER: The Birth of Nuclear Power, is a two-hour biography of the controversial admiral and engineer who developed the first nuclear submarine, aircraft carrier, and commercial power plant. It was broadcast nationally via PBS on December 9, 2014 at 8 PM. Also, upcoming, The Last 600 Meters, tells the story of the 2004 battles of Najaf and Fallujah, the two biggest battles of the Iraq War.

His film, Rediscovering Alexander Hamilton, hosted by Richard Brookhiser, was broadcast nationally via PBS on April 11, 2011 to excellent reviews; the Los Angeles Times called it “history with a high-octane kick” and the Washington Post praised its “surprising, relevant, and entertaining insights.” Mr. Pack’s other major television credits include: God and the Inner City, narrated by Phylicia Rashad (2003); Rediscovering George Washington, hosted by Richard Brookhiser (2002); The Fall of Newt Gingrich, narrated by Blair Brown (2000); The Rodney King Incident: Race and Justice in America, narrated by Robert Prosky (1998); Inside the Republican Revolution: The First Hundred Days, hosted by Don Lambro (1995); Hollywood vs. Religion, hosted by Michael Medved (1995); Campus Culture Wars: Five Stories about Political Correctness, narrated by Lindsay Crouse (1993); America’s Political Parties, hosted by Ben Wattenberg and David Gergen (1988 & 1992); Fire from the Sun: The Search for Fusion Energy, hosted by E. G. Marshall (1990); Hollywood’s Favorite Heavy: Businessmen on Prime Time TV, hosted by Eli Wallach (1987); among others. All have been nationally broadcast on PBS, except The Rodney King Incident, which premiered on TLC.