CAST MUSINGS

ANGELA COVEY

If I had to commit a murder, the surest way of ridding myself of him is to cleverly maneuver him to the head of the stairs after which a gentle nudge would do the deed. I think I shall do just that once I have conquered my fear of heights...

ERIC WELLS

If I had to commit a murder, I'd make it as epic as an action movie / explosions included!

IAN MILLER

If I had to commit a murder, I would eradicate all of the clowns in the world – except for the mimes – because a mime is a terrible thing to waste. #comedy...

JOHN MCCAWLEY

If I had to commit a murder, I know it would be the perfect one. I would take the victim to the Himalayas looking for Yeti and then..... or maybe the Barbary Coast looking for pirates..... or maybe the Amazon looking for head hunters..... oh, the endless possibilities!!!

RICHARD “DICK” SUITS

If I had to commit a murder, I would wind up in a straitjacket. I couldn't do it. Killing is so repugnant to me that I don't even kill spiders and snakes; it would be upsetting the balance of nature. Mosquitos – now that's a different story...

SARA DAVIS

If I had to commit a murder, I would make them watch infomercials until they just died of boredom.

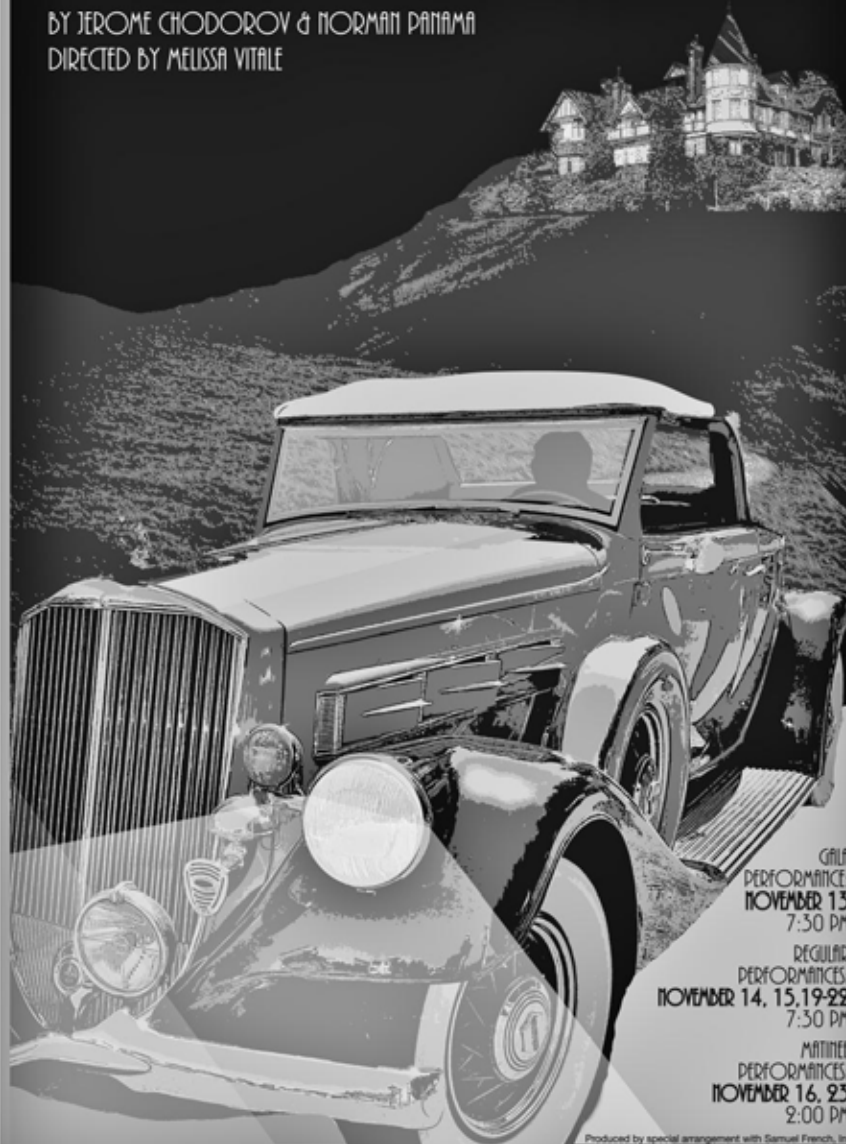

SUMMER FERGUSON

If I had to commit a murder, I would have a worldwide televised court-case, become famous, and everyone would wear t-shirts with my face on them.
