

MediConsign Program

We partner with healthcare facilities to manage retired medical equipment assets.

Is old equipment taking up valuable space?

Join our MediConsign program and we will pick up your old equipment at no charge, take inventory of the items with resale value, market the items on your behalf, sell them to end users and send you a check.

We have found great success with our program and want to share that success with you.

How the Program works:

- We determine which items are the most marketable, profitable and will provide the quickest turnaround. To save warehouse space SmedleyUSA removes the items at the time of inspection and sends to our processing and holding facility
- We take pictures and record equipment specifics.
- We perform an operation check on the equipment.
- Any repairs, if applicable, are performed at the time of inspection at no cost to you.
- We complete a full inventory and value analysis of the item(s) and send to you for review.
- We set the price for each item (per current market value and analysis).
- We market the items through our approved processes for six months. If the item(s) do not sell, you have the right to ask for the item(s) to be returned.
- Extensive records will be maintained through SmedleyUSA/USVI and will be available for review at any time.

Why Choose Us:

- Our program has seen a documented increase in the amount obtained for medical equipment; typically an additional 25-40% over other approaches.
- Our program eliminates fees and payment delays.
