To Whom It May Concern:

In my role as Social Committee Chair at Protiviti Inc. I am often tasked with the responsibility of planning company-wide events. When the opportunity to have an in-office golf clinic was presented, there was only one individual in the Chicagoland area that I felt could execute the best possible event. That individual was Ron Carroll and his coaching team.

Ron took my firm's "idea" for a golf clinic and quickly made it into a planned and organized event after one phone call. Ron and his team's vision for hosting events, whether on-site at the Diversey Driving Range or in-office, is remarkable. Time, space, and personnel constraints are not an obstacle and the dedication is simply unmatched.

The first year we held an in-office golf clinic with Ron was summer 2013. The day before Ron had injured himself teaching one of his clinics. Despite this injury, Ron showed up to give a golf demonstration to over 50 individuals with a ruptured Achilles tendon. That dedication is what led our company to adopt the in-office golf clinic as an annual event.

Overall, Ron and his team put on a tremendous event that gained an overwhelmingly positive reaction from my firm. His high energy and professionalism is only surpassed by his immense knowledge on the game of golf. The quality of his events truly distinguishes themselves from other programs. I highly recommend him and any resource that he endorses.
