Alyssa Criswell has been dancing since the age of 2 in her home town Tampa, Fl. After some time in gymnastics, cheer, and musical theatre she found dance to be her true passion. She trained with Orange Grove Middle Magnet School of the Arts where she gained performance experience at events including international award shows and YAGP. She continued her training at New Level Dance Company in styles of contemporary, jazz, hip hop, ballet, acrobatics, and aerial arts where she was a member of their competition team for five years. Alyssa was also a member of Tampa's Entertainment Revue, SkyArt Entertainment, Tampa Ballet Company and Plant High School Dancers throughout her years performing. She is currently a student at the University of Florida pursuing a bachelor's degree in Psychology which she plans to use to become a mental health therapist in her future. Alyssa is thrilled to be able to share a love for dance with the amazing family at iDance!
