Community Coach Spotlight

For the last few years as a volunteer naturalist for Highlands Center I led hikes for men and women in recovery homes. One focus of the hike was to help the clients develop their goals. I also volunteered at the CCJ shelter, Stagger Straight, to assist homeless people find work. Not surprisingly, I found by far most of these people were good people that had simply made bad choices in their lives. When I learned about the Community Coach Program, I knew that I could take my past volunteer experiences combined with my past business experience and possibly help participants move forward to an enriched and successful life. Although I am new as a coach, I can already see significant progress with my participants. This is as much a joy for me as it is for them as I see that my coaching is making a difference.”

Tom is passionate about providing guidance and direction for his participants.

Anthony

I knew the moment I walked into the Yavapai Reentry Project doors, I was in a place full of caring, compassionate, and genuine people. I was greeted by Jamie with a smile and laughs and met a fantastic women named Clarissa, who is not only a coach but an amazing friend as well. YRP opened their arms to me with no judgement or reservations, when all I was scared of when I was released, is all that I knew. The folks at YRP help those who need that helping hand or nothing at all. They helped me where I needed it most and that was someone who believed in me and helped me emotionally to also believe in myself. I will be forever grateful to everyone at YRP. Jamie for the first genuine smile I have seen in a long time. Clarissa for being an amazing person with such a big caring heart and a dear friend, and all the others that take time to help others who everyone turned away from.

Anthony- You have been determined to change you life since day one. You have been the change and we see your positive growth.
