

PRESS RELEASE

January 17, 2019

Interfacial Announces Addition of Boyd Andrews as its Chief Financial Officer (CFO)

Prescott, Wisconsin – Interfacial, a global leader in the development and manufacturing of advanced materials, is pleased to announce the addition of Boyd Andrews as its Chief Financial Officer (CFO). This announcement comes during a time of accelerating growth for the organization, which has three divisions: Development Services, Specialty Materials and Engineered Substrates. Boyd will report directly to Jeff Cernohous, CEO and Founder of Interfacial.

Boyd brings over 20 years of leadership experience that include roles in finance, operations, logistics, innovation, marketing, corporate development, and sustainability. He graduated with a BS in Management from Georgia Tech, and later with an MBA from Yale University. Boyd will lead a number of key strategic initiatives for Interfacial as we look to successfully navigate through this period of growth.

CEO Jeff Cernohous stated, “We are excited to have Boyd join Interfacial as our Chief Financial Officer, his leadership and experience will be a great asset and I am certain he shares our core values.” Though the appointment is formally effective on January 1, 2019, Boyd is already involved in a number of key initiatives for Interfacial.

###

Interfacial is focused on the development and commercialization of technology platforms relating to advanced materials and manufacturing processes for the plastics, building and construction, electronics, automotive, recycling and specialty chemicals markets. Founded in 2015, Interfacial has achieved CAGR of over 100%, has revenues approaching $10 million and currently employs a staff of 45. For more information, see www.ifllc.com.