

MEMBER ENDORSEMENTS

Our members know the importance of industry representation, AMEC was created for this purpose.

Here is what our members say about us

“I am proud to be the President of AMEC, the peak national industry body for the mining and mineral exploration industry, and know that if it wasn't for AMEC's representation to all levels of Government in all the jurisdictions that we operate, there would be more red tape and ineffective regulation.”

PETER BRADFORD, MANAGING DIRECTOR AND CEO.

INDEPENDENCE GROUP NL (IGO)

WA PRODUCER.

“I decided to join AMEC because they support our peer group in the mineral industry, and have a great track record in dealing with critical legislative issues.

As a bonus we ended up saving almost $11,000 by using the AMEC insurance facility provided through Gallagher, and achieved a more fit-for-purpose set of policies.

ANDREW PATERSON - MANAGING DIRECTOR, GREAT BOULDER RESOURCES LIMITED

WA EXPLORER

“AMEC has championed issues and ideas that have led to direct outcomes for our company and many others. The implementation of the Junior Minerals Exploration Incentive (JMEI) has delivered $100m into many greenfield exploration companies, and our company has been a direct beneficiary. AMEC should be congratulated on driving the adoption of the JMEI by the Commonwealth Government as it has been of great assistance in raising new risk capital for mineral exploration in Australia, and very important in fostering future exploration success and development of the mines of tomorrow.”

CHRIS CAIRNS, EXECUTIVE CHAIRMAN AND MANAGING DIRECTOR.

STAVELY MINERALS

VIC EXPLORER

“The AMEC team has consistently been there for us when we need them often going above and beyond the call of duty, our AMEC Membership is extremely valuable to us. AMEC provides us with expert input and advice across a large range of matters affecting junior explorers like Coda Minerals. These range from helping us understand changes in policy through to dealing with sudden changes to state borders during the COVID pandemic.”

CHRIS STEVENS, CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER , CODA MINERALS LTD.

SA EXPLORER

“AMEC is a powerful voice supporting our industry; when MRL needed to be heard on the multi-user Utah Point Bulk Handling facility, and a damaging port fee increase, AMEC gave us a unified strong voice to Government.”

CHRIS ELLISON, MANAGING DIRECTOR,

MINERAL RESOURCES

WA PRODUCER

“UTM Global Pty Ltd is proud to be an AMEC member and supporter. We believe that AMEC is a great support to the Industry which was even more evident during COVID-19 and the collaboration on behalf of the Industry with Government which resulted in the Covid-19 package. This meant that we saved $$ in rent and fees and our companies were able to put those $$ into active exploration. AMEC works on behalf of the Industry in all jurisdictions in Australia, ensuring our Industry is well represented when policy and legislation changes are being considered and keeping its members informed and abreast of those changes. We appreciate the work AMEC does on our behalf in building support for our Industry. AMEC will take on the most challenging tasks and get the results we need for change in our Industry!”

EDEN HODSON, PRINCIPAL / SENIOR MINING CONSULTANT QLD, NSW.

UTM GLOBAL

QLD ASSOCIATE

MEMBER ENDORSEMENTS

“For small junior companies with limited back office capacity, AMEC is the go to organisation in terms of keeping abreast of the raft of new laws and regulations.

In addition, we received sound counsel and support from AMEC on a recent Land Access issue related to our Tennant Creek Project, resulting in a timely and satisfactory resolution.”

ROB BILLS, MANAGING DIRECTOR AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER.

EMMERSON RESOURCES LTD NT AND NSW EXPLORER

“AMEC are a very effective and committed advocacy group for small and mid tier mining and exploration companies and have a deep understanding of the issues faced by the resources industry. Their tireless efforts have undoubtedly contributed to our rapid transition to producer status at our Nullagine Gold Project”

ROB HUMPHRYSON, CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER.

NOVO RESOURCES
WA PRODUCER

“With all of the other pressures on mid- to small-cap miners, it’s great that AMEC can help with the heavy lifting on the less glamorous but equally important activities of government policy and mining advocacy.”

MIKE YOUNG, MANAGING DIRECTOR.

VIMY RESOURCES
WA EXPLORER

“The opportunity for a collective voice from junior explorer’s is invaluable.. AMEC’s industry advocacy is vital in ensuring key issues are raised and adequately addressed by the various stakeholders across the industry. Operating on a national basis whilst navigating the intricacies of each state, AMEC provides junior explorers with an invaluable resource to aid their exploration activities across the country.”

DAN THOMAS, MANAGING DIRECTOR.

HAMMER METALS LTD QLD EXPLORER

“AMEC is proactively involved with our company’s specific challenges and has been a strong advocate for the Central Eyre Iron Project, including the proposed multi-user, multi-commodity deep water port at Cape Hardy. Their constructive engagement with the State Government on our behalf has been invaluable. AMEC allows us to keep abreast of developments both locally and nationally, providing advocacy when required. The South Australian Advisory Committee is an excellent forum to share ideas and work together to address those challenges facing industry and individual member companies.”

LARRY INGLE, CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER.

IRON ROAD LTD
SA EXPLORER

“Geos Mining has been impressed with AMEC’s professionalism, integrity and ability to proactively engage its members towards providing a united voice that can be heard by major political decision makers.”

TOM BRADBURY, MANAGING DIRECTOR.

GEOS MINING NSW ASSOCIATE MEMBER

“When the lithium industry was under pressure due to low prices, we turned to AMEC for support. AMEC coordinated a unified, professional request to government for a royalty rebate scheme, that was subsequently granted. This was a positive outcome for the sector, not just Galaxy and was achieved in a short space of time, thanks to AMEC’s experience, connections and influence.”

SIMON HAY, CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER.

GALAXY RESOURCES
WA PRODUCER

“Many years ago the founder of Hancock Prospecting, Mr Lang Hancock, actively encouraged the formation of AMEC. He knew that Australia needed a voice, an organisation to stand up for our industry, promote our interests and assist our industry, an industry immensely important for our State, our country and our very standards of living,”

TAD WATROBA, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR.

HANCOCK PROSPECTING
WA PRODUCER

MEMBER ENDORSEMENTS

“As a new member company to AMEC, the EQR management team have been hugely impressed by the extensive network of companies that AMEC has curated and their ability and willingness to help and link member companies together for a host of services and knowledge. As an operation that has recently restarted, we’ve been able to quickly find high quality services and partners through AMEC, making our transition to emerging producer a reality. We looking forward to our membership and engagement for years to come.”

KEVIN MACNEILL, CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER.
EQ RESOURCES LTD
QLD PRODUCER

Juniors in the resource sector don’t have the luxury of whole division across all facets of the industry that the majors do. AMEC provides guidance and support in the many disciplines we have to face these days and ensures that the small end of town has a voice and is not drowned out by preferences of the big boys. We joined AMEC because they listen and act on the real issues that face our industry for the benefit of the whole industry,”

PETER COOK, MANAGING DIRECTOR.
WESTGOLD RESOURCES
WA PRODUCER

“Understanding the industry and its specific needs, AMEC connects us with our industry via working groups on specific commodities and regular networking events. In addition, they have done a great job in keeping us updated – and hence safe – on ever-changing COVID-regulations.”

ALEX BORGER, GENERAL MANAGER.
