

YOUR BIANCO TOUR INCLUDES:

Round Trip Transportation - Via deluxe highway motorcoach. Equipped with reclining seats, overhead storage, and a restroom for your comfort and convenience.

A Detroit Historian will be with us the entire day to tell stories and narrate about the stops we see throughout the day.

Palmer Park - Hear a ghost story at Palmer Park en route to Elmwood Cemetery.

Drive by Perimeter of Mt. Elliott Cemetery - Consecrated in 1841, just four years after Michigan became the 26th state of the Union, Mt. Elliott Cemetery has a remarkable collection of monuments featuring the names of well-known Detroiters such as Beaubian, Campau and Moross.

Elmwood Cemetery* - Historic Elmwood Cemetery is the oldest continuously operating, non-denominational cemetery in Michigan. The cemetery was established in 1846 and incorporated in 1849. Founded by some of early Detroit's leading citizens, Elmwood quickly expanded from its original 42 acres to its current size of 86 acres and became the final resting-place of tycoon and laborer alike. This is a walking tour up to one mile.

Amore de Roma - Formerly Roma Café, Detroit's oldest restaurant, has been serving classic Italian cuisine since 1890!

Two Way Inn (dessert & beverage) - The Two Way Inn claims to be the oldest bar in Detroit and has been selling spirits since at least 1876 without stop. During Prohibition, it became a speakeasy as confirmed by the Detroit Historical Society giving the Two Way Inn the longest run of legally and illegally selling drinks to the thirsty. Just like an old time speakeasy, patrons need to be buzzed in. Colonel Philetus Norris, the Two Way Inn's first owner, allegedly haunts the place.

Woodlawn Cemetery* - At over 123 years old, this cemetery holds much of the history of the Detroit area within its borders. Monuments and mausoleums throughout the cemetery memorialize the lives of Detroit greats from the auto and music industries, key philanthropists to education, art and other causes, major political and financial figures and many others who served as an important part of history. With architectural structures modeled in ancient Greek, Egyptian and Roman styles, Woodlawn serves as an outdoor museum to be revered by all. A couple stops will be made inside the cemetery.

 Cemetery tours may be delayed if a funeral is in progress.*
